The University is a way of life.

The doors are opened. The books are stacked. Apprehensive and prospective, we merge into the world of the university.

But, the university does not provide all; the help of each individual is required. Participation leads to involvement, responsibility, experience — a totally new experience for many of us in this new world, this strange but exciting society.

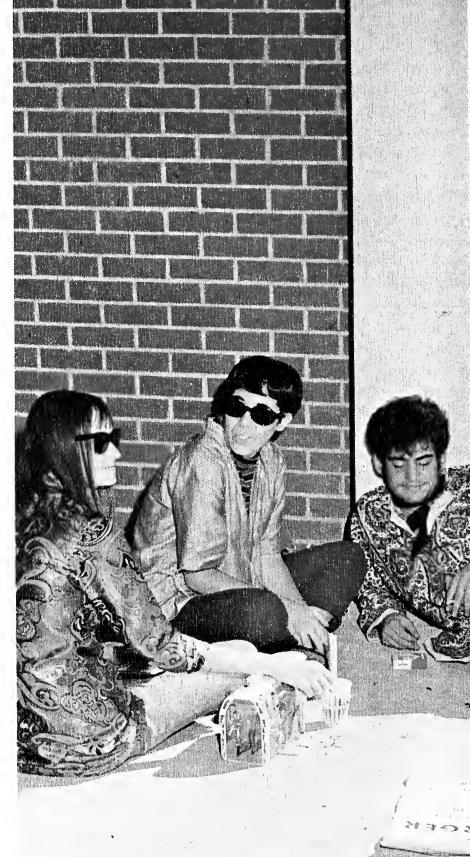

Unaware, we blend into

A populace of old and new trends.

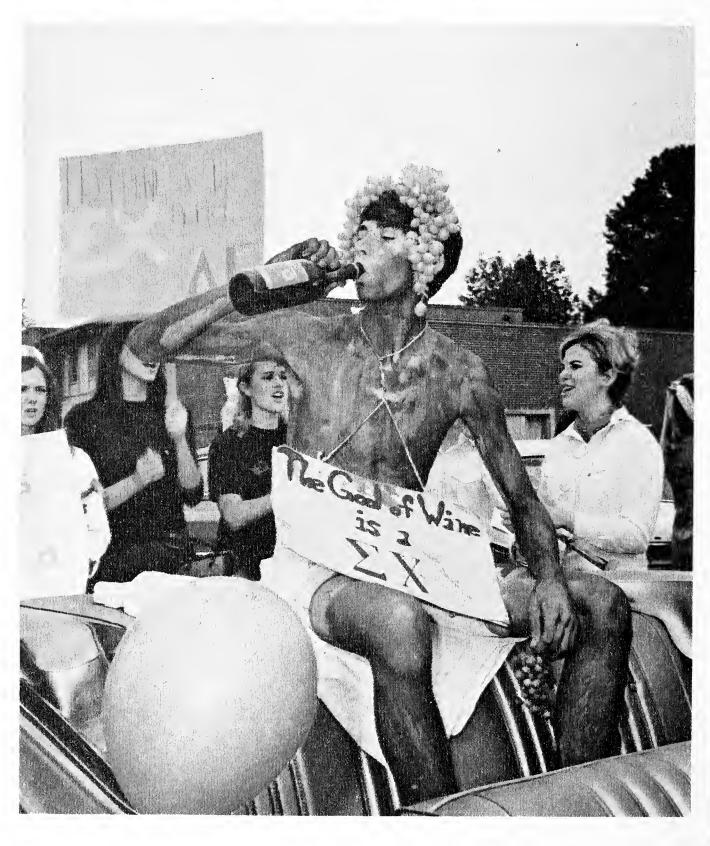

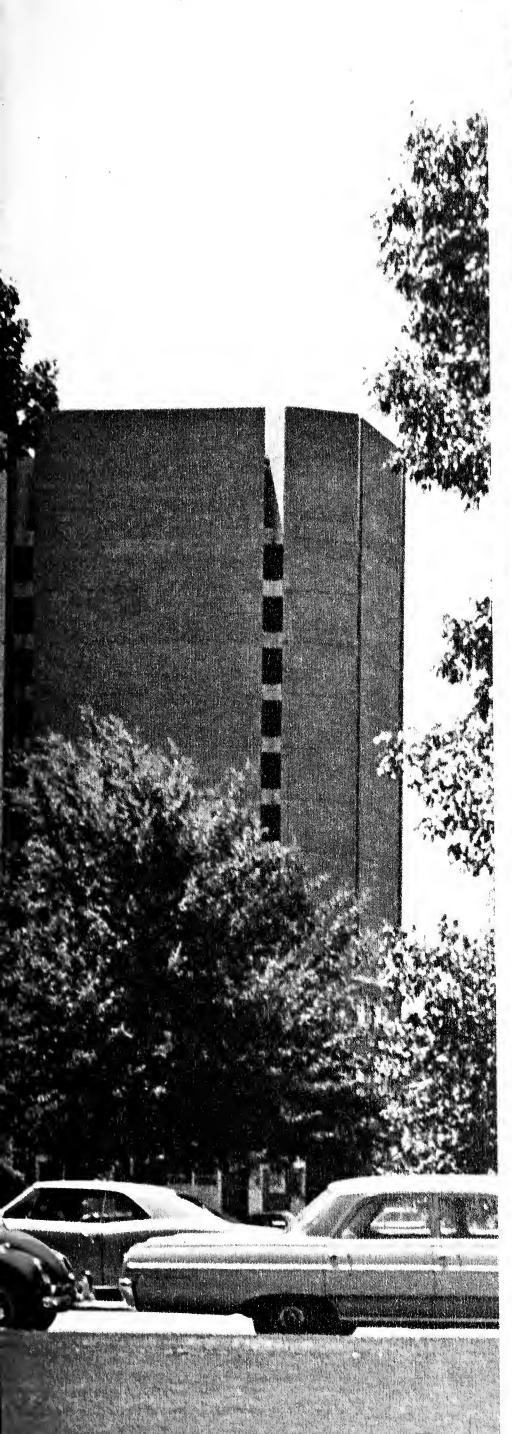

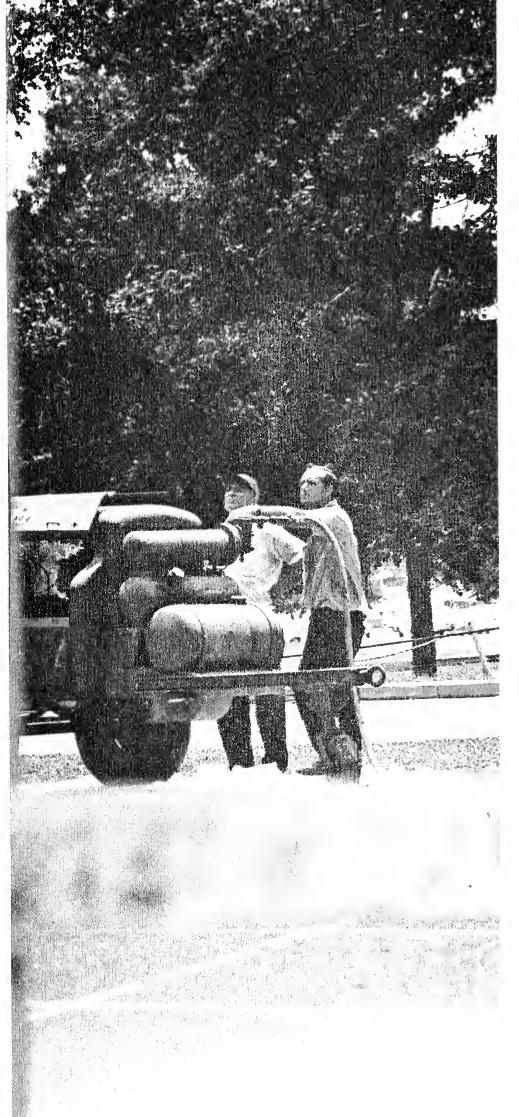

Although we may blend into the crowds, we remain individuals. We each have our own goals and dreams or a lack of them.

Within an ever-changing atmosphere

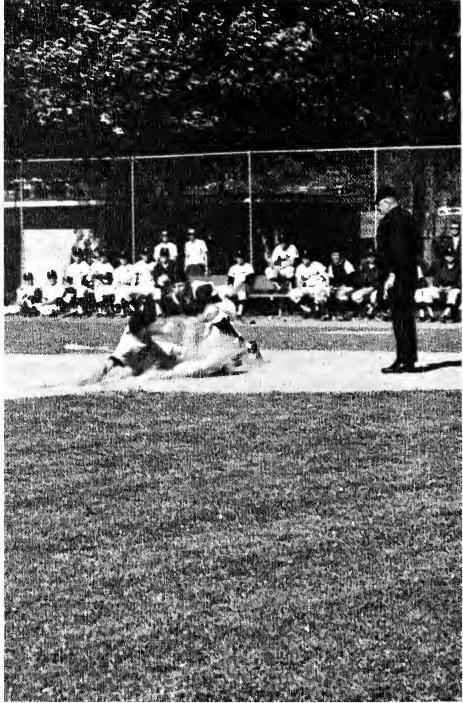

But, the university retains many characteristics as it progresses. With years it acquires a grace, a style, a strength which serves as a bulwark in times of turmoil. Classes continue, and we in the society adjust with the changes.

Seasoned through our efforts, our discoveries, our knowledge, we attain a mellowness and a sense of maturity.

The flowering of experience brings us to

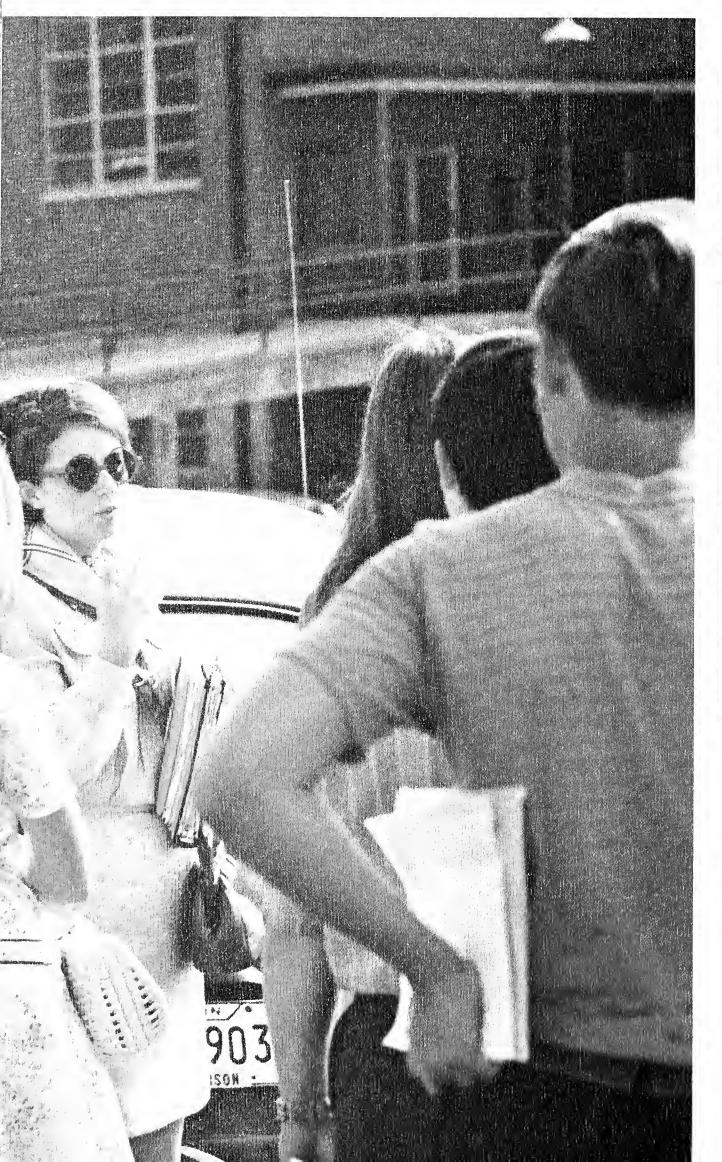

The Age of Responsibility

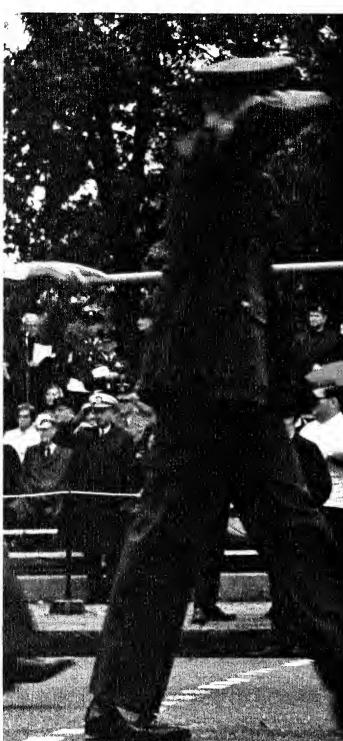

We also progress, expanding ourselves to areas unknown to us before we were introduced to this community.

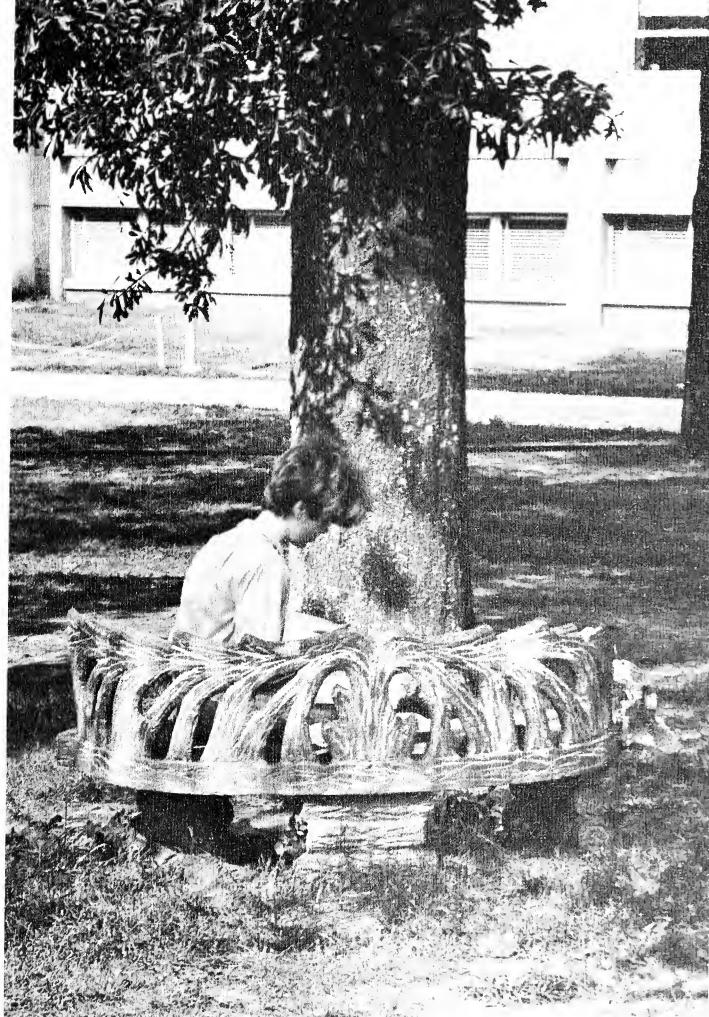

Maturity is potentiality.

We are able to lead — whether we take charge of others or merely direct our own lives.

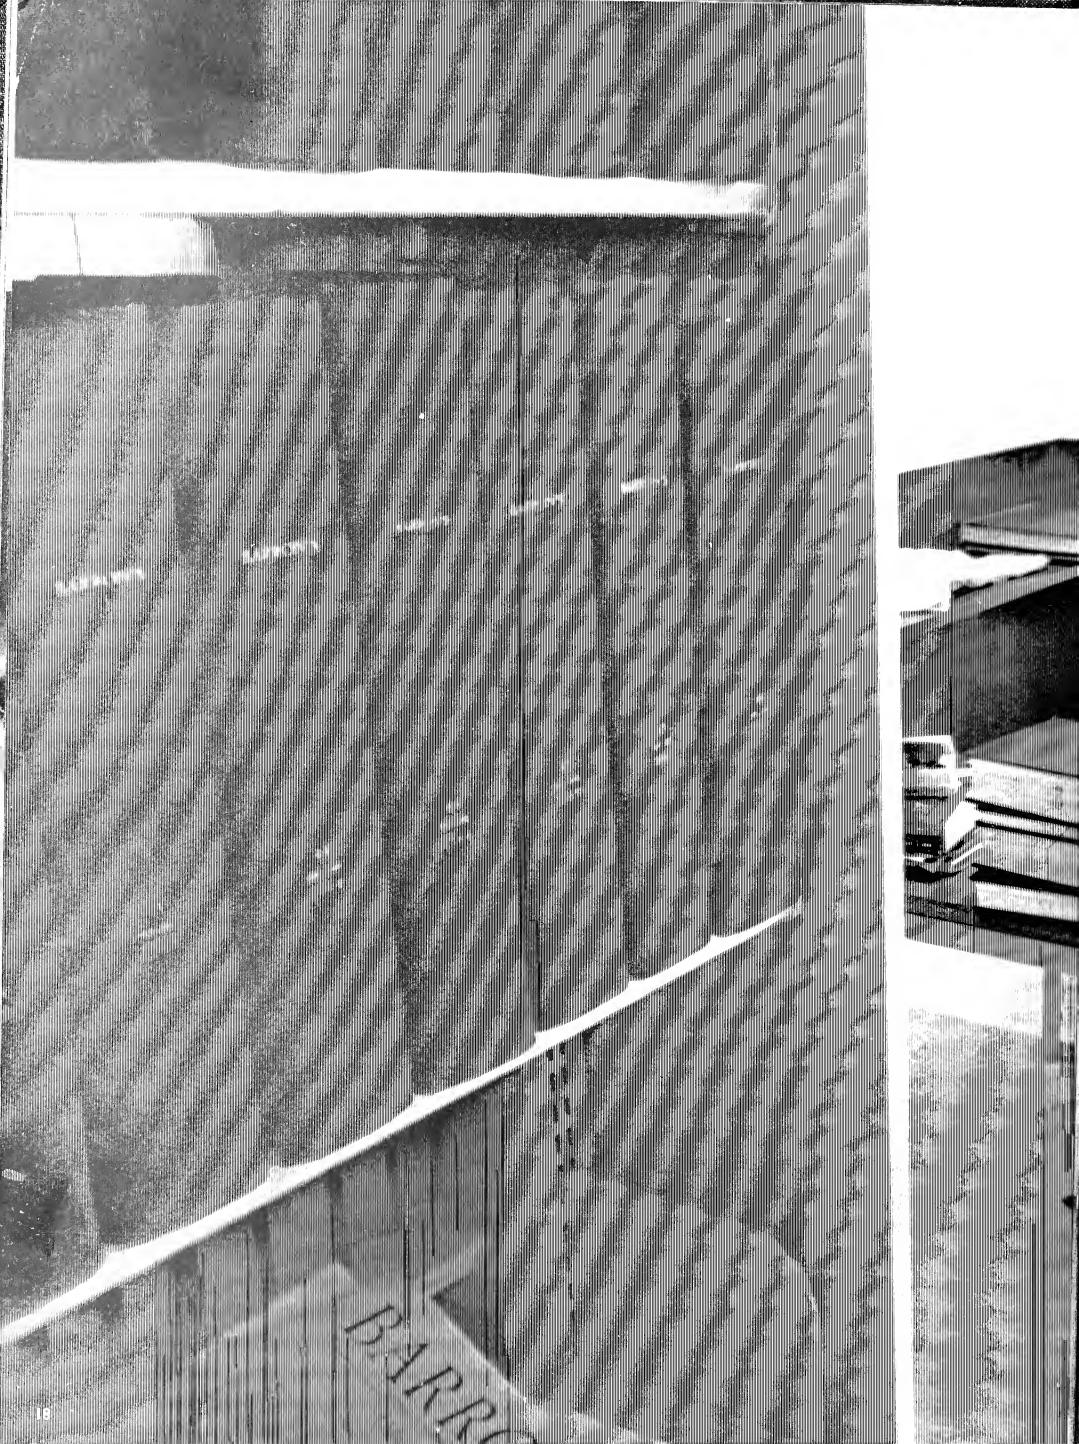

Maturity has been defined as the time after the wild oats have been sown; but, have we reached this point? The university provides the last time for many of us to Sow the wild oats.

Dr. C. C. Humphreys, President, Memphis State University

The President's Home

Administration

Memphis State University, one of the fastest growing universities in the South, has experienced much of its expansion under the direction of Dr. C. C. Humphreys, President. Included in Dr. Humphreys' duties were supervising many programs on campus and representing MSU at numerous social functions.

Several changes in the administration this year were directed toward meeting the needs of a fast-growing student body. A new addition was Ernest K. Davis, Dean of Student Affairs. Other changes included Dr. R. E. Carrier, Vice President of Academic Affairs; Roy Nix, Vice President of Administrative Affairs, and Dr. Jess Parrish, Vice President of Student Affairs.

Student Government Association

The Memphis State Student Government Association, composed of all students in the university, coordinated all academic and extracurricular endeavors of the student body.

Accomplishments included student representation on university curriculum committees, the change of the semester to end before Christmas, free tutoring for underclassmen, a speakers program, leadership conference to recruit students for MSU and the extension of library hours. The SGA also presented Homecoming and provided the students with concerts featuring such artists as The Fifth Dimension and Blood, Sweat, and Tears.

The main objectives of the 1969-70 SGA were academic reform and increased student participation.

University Inter-Faith Council

The Memphis State Inter-Faith Council united the religious organizations on campus, sponsoring and promoting religious activities among the students.

The Inter-Faith Council consisted of two members from each organization, but any members could attend the meetings. The council met to discuss current problems pertaining to their groups and to exchange ideas for the betterment of interdenominational relationships.

Activities for the year included the annual Christmas Tree Lighting, the highlight of the yuletide season, and sponsoring several speakers and singing groups for the students' entertainment.

Members of the Inter-Faith Council present puzzling questions at meetings.

IFC

Memphis State's Interfraternity Council, composed of delegates from all chartered fraternities on campus, promoted better relations among fraternities and sponsored worthwhile activities on campus.

This year for the first time, the IFC's annual St. Jude Blood Drive included blood clubs for all students who contributed. This provided an added incentive to the students and proved successful.

Greek Week, November 17-22, was climaxed by the crowning of the 1969-70 Greek Goddess, Gale Robison, and the announcement of Bob Wilson as Greek God.

Dana Lynch, president, Intersorority Council

ISC

The Intersorority Council, the first of its kind in the nation, brought national attention to Memphis State University from universities across the country. Represented in its membership were all national sororities on campus and the two national panhellenics.

The ISC coordinated activities mutual to all sororities such as Greek Week, All Sing, DZ Follies, May Day and the St. Jude Blood Drive.

The ISC had a Greek Dessert this year during Greek Week. Girls brought desserts for the fraternity men. Activities such as these promoted the spirit of cooperation and equal participation of the ISC.

Conducting a meeting of the Panhellenic Council are (l. to r.) Dana Lynch, 2nd vice president; Susan Avery, president, and Joyce Higgs, secretary.

Panhellenic Council

Consisting of representatives from each national sorority on campus, Memphis State University's Panhellenic Council served as the legislative body for sororities in the Panhellenic Building.

They set up rules and regulations concerning rush activities and enforced general rules of government.

The Panhellenic Council sponsored various activities on campus throughout the year and participated in the St. Jude Blood Drive, May Day and Derby Day.

In recognition of its superior work and achievements, the Panhellenic Council was given a trophy citing it as the most outstanding Panhellenic Council in the nation.

NPHC

The Memphis State National Panhellenic Council was organized in 1968 at MSU. The Charter members were: Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta, Sigma Gamma Rho and Zeta Phi Beta.

The NPHC, an associate member of the Intersorority Council, provided unanimity of thought and action in the conduct of Greek letter collegiate sororities and considered problems of mutual interest to its member organizations.

UCPB

The University Center Program Board, coordinator of all activities in the student center, celebrated its first birthday this spring.

Success of the UCPB was evident by the many activities sponsored by the group for Memphis State's students.

Various events sponsored by the board included the DeSoto Beauty Revue, prominent speakers from all walks of life, entertainers at the new Habitat and many dances.

In October, they sponsored a pumpkin watch in search of the most unusual pumpkin submitted by any individual or group.

Men's Residence Hall Executive Council

The MRHA worked closely with the Women's Residence Hall Association in planning many activities for campus residents of Memphis State.

In the spring, tickets to a Memphis South Stars hockey game were made available to members of the MRHA. Plans for rewriting their constitution were carried out at that time.

Working jointly with the WRHA, they entered a float in the fall Homecoming Parade and sponsored Kathy Arnold as a candidate for Homecoming Queen.

Further plans for the fall semester included a hayride-dance, a four hour dance and a movie with free refreshments.

Spring dorm officers are (back to front) Pauline Weaver, judicial secretary; Gayla Ballard, secretary-treasurer; Paula James, 2nd vice president; Gayle Carter, 1st vice president, and Lynn Weber, president.

Women's Residence Hall Executive Council

The Women's Residence Hall Association passed many revisions in the constitution, permitting the use of personally owned televisions in the individual rooms and extending the dormitory hours to midnight weeknights and 3 a.m. Friday and Saturday nights. A new permission form allowed girls with parental permission to sign out overnight without having a resident hall director's approval.

The Joint Residence Hall Council entertained all incoming resident students with a free night at Habitat, the UCPB coffee house which featured John Burrows at its September opening.

The Executive Council encouraged the separate hall councils to provide more interest and activities among the students in the residence halls.

University College

The University College at Memphis State was formed last year to provide a program of courses and academic advisement which would prepare students for enrollment in one of the degreegranting colleges of the University when they reached the junior year.

Dr. John L. Dameron, formerly with the English department, was appointed Dean of the University College this year. As well as an addition in the staff, the Jones Hall headquarters of the UC were modernized and enlarged.

The advisors' main objectives were guiding the students in selecting the right courses and scheduling the majority of required courses during the first two years in order to spend the last two in their major area.

Arts and Sciences

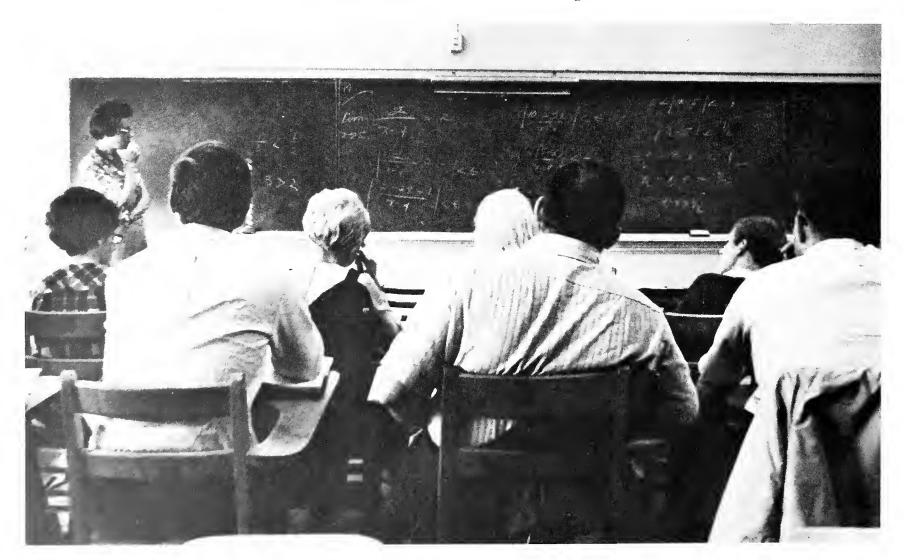

The College of Arts and Sciences designed programs suited to three general areas of study — humanities, natural sciences and social sciences.

Dr. Walter R. Smith, dean, successfully coordinated the seventeen departments of the college into the largest and most rapidly expanding division of the university.

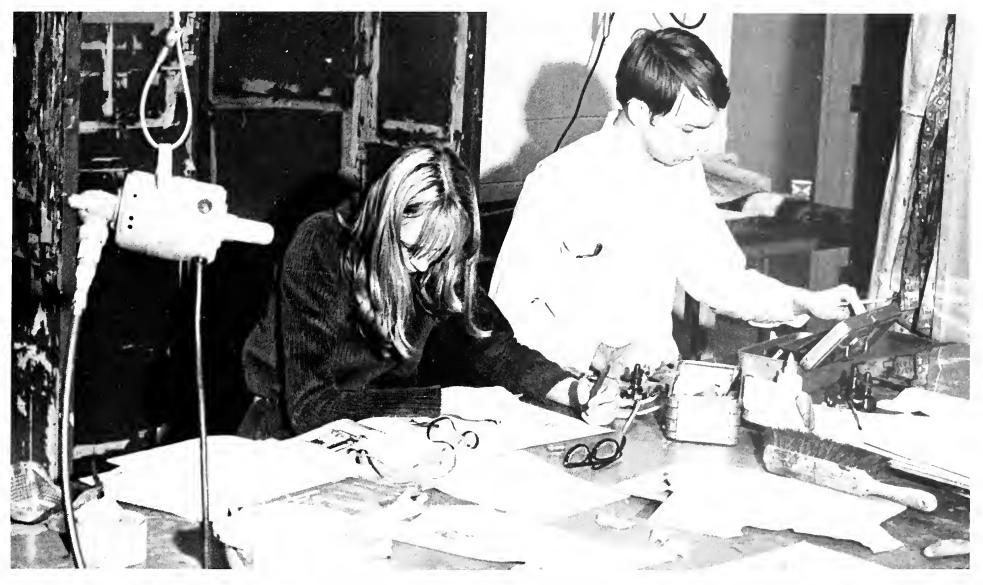

A new addition to the English department of the college was Jesse Hill Ford, Memphis State's writer-in-residence. Mr. Ford taught a course about the short story while finishing a novel, "Elias."

Nursing

The Department of Nursing became an integral part of Memphis State this year. The Associate Degree in Nursing program was established to provide residents of the area an opportunity to prepare themselves to meet a critical nationwide need for nursing services.

Keeping all possibilities in mind, the nursing curriculum included courses to train nurses for careers in hospitals, private offices, private duty and in government service.

Lois J. Holoman served as chairman of the department.

Business Administration

With business and industry calling for more college graduates every year, the College of Business Administration provided the basic education necessary to prepare a person to enter the profession.

The new Business Administration building, under construction this year and scheduled for completion in 1970, was designed to meet the growing needs of a growing enrollment.

Comfortable classrooms and laboratories for accounting, sales presentations, secretarial practice, statistics, and other activities were incorporated in the plans for construction providing ample space for the college's five departments — accountancy, economics and finance, management, marketing and secretarial science \checkmark office management.

Education

The improvement of education methods and teacher placement were the keynotes of Memphis State's College of Education.

The college consisted of seven departments and sponsored the University Campus School for elementary grades, providing education majors with an opportunity to observe and practice modern teaching techniques. Students learned to teach both exceptional and handicapped children as well as those on other levels.

The College of Education also participated in community teaching projects such as providing instructors for Operation Headstart.

School of Engineering

The Herff School of Engineering at Memphis State was in its second year under the direction of Dr. Roger E. Nolte, chairman, with plans well under way on the new engineering building.

The engineering program, rapidly growing through the continued enthusiasm of the students as well as the faculty, graduated its second group with a Bachelor of Engineering degree this year.

Graduate School

The increased number of students enrolling in Graduate School was greatly felt at Memphis State this year. Under the direction of Dr. John Richardson, lectures, seminars and field work were offered to students wishing to further their education in a specific area.

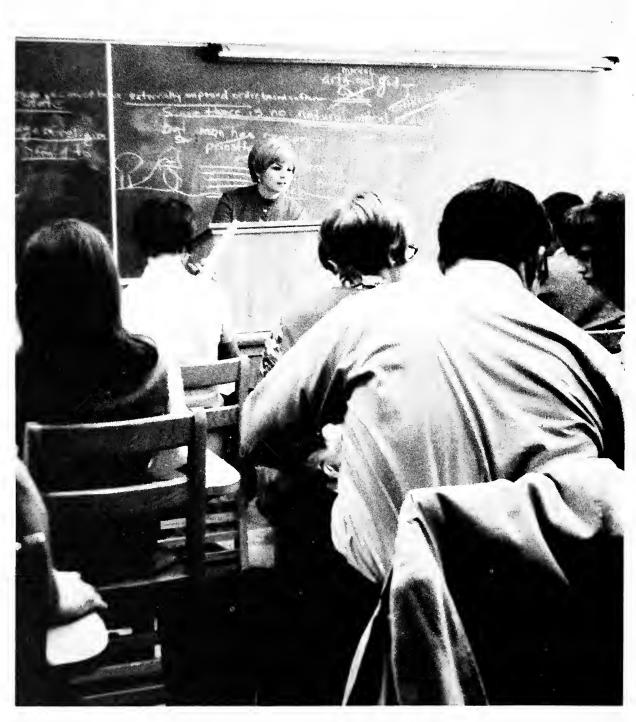

Masters Degree Majors were available in 29 departments covering approximately 45 specialties, while the Doctorate was offered in five departments.

School of Law

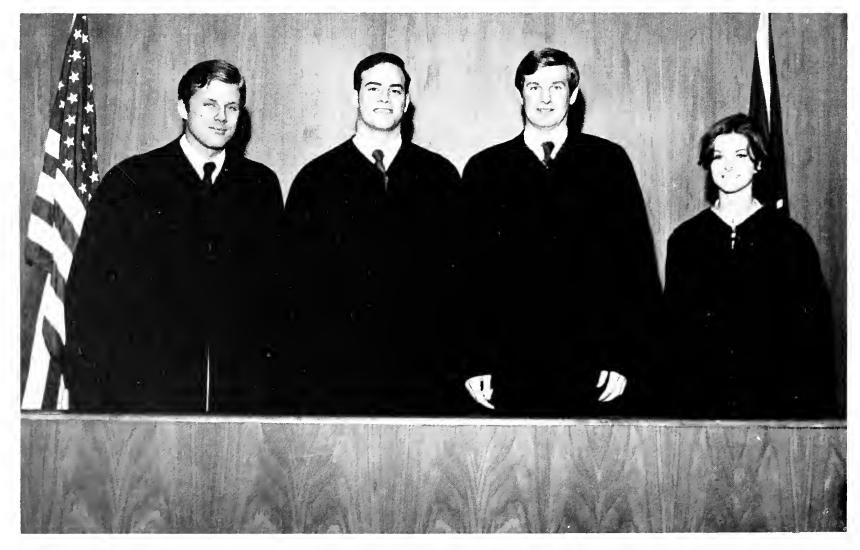

The Memphis State Law School, one of the finest in the South as evidenced by its early accreditation, continued this year in its education of promising attorneys.

A student could enroll in a regular program, attending classes in the day, or in the extended program, attending classes in the evening with both programs leading to a Juris Doctor.

To be eligible for admission a student must have received a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university and must have taken the Law School Admission Test.

Residence Halls

Editors, Larry Rosen Melinda Higgins

Central Towers

"A community within a community" adequately describes living in this modern, high-rise residence hall. Larger than many small communities, the more than 1,000 Central Towers residents have their own student government, newspaper, judicial system, food services, recreation and programming.

All programming and committees are on a coeducational basis. Despite its "separateness" image, the Towers' facilities, programming and personnel are an educational sub-system of the university. It is privately owned, yet controlled by the university.

Statesman Complex

The Statesman Complex of the Men's Residence Hall Association is composed of four residence halls located at the Northeast corner of the University campus. These residence halls are McCord, Browning, Hayden and Robison. Of these, Hayden is designated as a graduate residence facility, and Robison houses University athletes.

Browning Hall, dedicated in 1967 houses the guest speakers' lounge for the Statesmen's Complex. Many prominent civic leaders and educators have come to discuss major issues which confront the university through this medium. Browning also boasts its enthusiastic intramural teams.

McCord Hall, also dedicated in 1967, is the center of activity in the complex. The aim of the Statesmen's Complex is to provide varied experiences so that residence hall living becomes an integral part of one's total educational program.

Girls' Dorms

Residence hall living is, for many girls, the first experience in living away from home. It provides many opportunities for making new friends, exchanging personal ideas and broadening one's horizons.

The residence hall is like a world in itself. There is always someone available to whom a troubled girl may confide her problems; another girl may type a theme at the last minute for a procrastinating cohort, and there are always people staying awake until the wee hours of the morning for that big exam the next day.

Lifetime remembrances and friendships are accessible to all residence hall students.

Girls' Dorms

In previous years women's residence halls were classified into freshmen and upperclassmen. For the first time freshmen resided in Mynders and Rawls Halls while the upperclassmen moved into Smith and West Halls. By this means freshman women could adjust and adapt to college by being closer to the upperclassmen.

The women's residence halls' officers and staffs planned special activities for the residents. Open houses afforded an opportunity for men to visit in the rooms. At Christmas, the individual dorms highlighted the semester with a dinner and entertainment, followed by caroling. Prizes were awarded for creativity in door decoration following the Christmas theme.

For the first full school term the new dormitory hours went into effect for both freshmen and upperclass women. Dorm hours were extended to allow greater leniency for women living in the residence halls.

The Fifth Dimension entertained before a capacity crowd at the Mid-South Colliseum for this year's Homecoming Concert. One of the most popular jazz soul groups in the country, they sang such hits as "Wedding Bell Blues," "Up, Up, and Away" and "MacArthur Park." Mike Johnson, chairman of the Social Activities Committee of the SGA, booked them before Homecoming a year ago.

Marilyn McCoo, one of the two female vocalists, was unable to appear at the concert, for she was recovering from an appendectomy at St. Jude's Hospital.

During their last song of the evening, "Aquarius / Let the Sunshine in," the Fifth Dimension received a fifteen minute standing ovation from the exhilarated audience.

Second Homecoming Parade

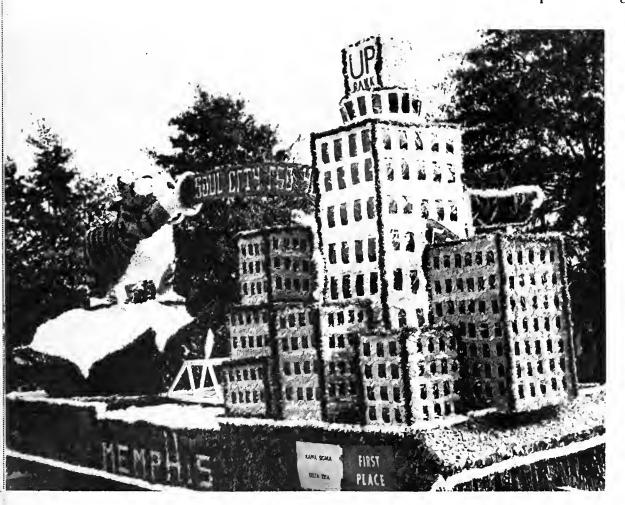

MSU honored the Memphis Sesquicentennial in the Homecoming Parade. The theme of the parade was "Memphis State Salutes the Sesquicentennial City," pointing out that Memphis helps Memphis State grow which, in turn, helps Memphis grow.

The parade, which was the city's largest in two years, included more than 55 units, including floats, bands, horses and antique cars. Community attractions dotted the parade line-up, signifying the broadening horizons of MSU.

The parade was very much a success. Awards for the floats were presented at the half-time ceremonies during the MSU-Tulsa football game.

People of all ages enjoyed the Homecoming Parade.

Delta Zeta and Kappa Sigma worked together to build the winning float.

Fraternity members, as well as their mascots, witnessed the results of a month of hard work.

DeSoto Beauty Revue

For the first time the DeSoto Beauty Revue was held in the University Palladium. Mary Agnes Welsh directed the revue along the theme of "Glorifying the American Girl."

An opening production number was chosen to add more entertainment to the revue. Set in the 1930s, it resembled a Broadway musical.

Under 21 gleaming stage lights the 24 contestants were judged on the basis of three categories: talent, swimsuit, evening gown. There was a tie in the talent division, shared by Linda Thompson and Marsha McDonald. Jo Alexander won the evening gown and Glenda Rhodes the swimsuit division. Miss Congeniality, Cathy Campbell, was chosen by her fellow contestants.

Leadership Day

The Student Government Association hosted: 100 high school seniors from the Memphis area as part of Leadership Day. Programs were designed to acquaint the seniors with the many organizations and facilities at Memphis State University which are designed to develop their leadership potential.

After a tour of the campus, the students were separated into three groups and given the opportunity to attend several panel discussions set up by the SGA.

During lunch they were entertained at the UCPB Habitat. John Buskin played the guitar and sang folk songs for the pleasure of the seniors.

After a short pep rally, buses transported the students to the MSU-Louisville football game.

Speakers

Several speakers visited Memphis State's campus during the year. Such topics as subjectivity in the news media, the current race relations in the South, the role of labor in American Society and the new draft lottery system generated interest among MSU students.

Lecture series which came to the campus included the Goodwyn Institute Lecture Series and the Siedman Series. News commentator Howard K. Smith, Newsweek Editor Osborne Eliot, and civil rights leader Dr. Charles Evers were among the prominent lecturers.

Of interest to the male students, was Arnold L. Malone of the State Selective Service Bureau. Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity, sponsored Mr. Malone's visit coinciding with the enactment of the draft lottery law.

Developing Campus

Buildings were under construction all over the campus. Included in the expansion plans were the psychology, journalism, business administration and math buildings, the physical education and engineering complexes, and the married student housing.

Memphis State's growth to the south made necessary the construction of a ditch across campus which became known as "the continental divide." Six feet deep and five feet wide, the excavation obstructed traffic of both vehicles and pedestrians.

Heavy equipment and dust accompanying the construction made the growth of MSU obvious to even the most casual observer.

Dr. Cecil C. Humphreys, MSU president, signs into action Fraternity Park.

Fraternity Park

After many years of waiting, the Tennessee Legislature and Memphis State University administration approved the start of a Fraternity Park complex at MSU. With a 1970 completion date expected, Lambda Chi Alpha, Alpha Tau Omega and Pi Kappa Alpha were the first fraternities to be given contracts. The houses, costing approximately $300,000 will be located in the south section of the campus.

Inadequate fraternity housing facilities and the constant growth of the fraternities through the years spurred plans for the new houses. The buildings will provide residence facilities for 29 men for Lambda Chi and Pike, with ATO constructing a 45-man house.

In the future the complex will include all 16 fraternities at MSU.

Fall Parties

Informal parties were frequent during the fall semester, whether celebrating football victories or the weekend relief.

Fraternity houses were often the setting for dances after the games.

Parties of all types and following a variety of themes provided an outlet for relinquishing the tensions of academic stress.

Greek Week

This year Greek Week sponsored by the Interfraternity Council and Intersorority Council was quite a different event than in the past. Festivities started on a Monday night with a Greek dessert sponsored by all the sororities, with all fraternities attending. On Tuesday night the presidents and officers of each fraternity and sorority were guests of the IFC-ISC to a banquet at which Dean Sidney Boutwell of Vanderbilt University was guest speaker.

The climax of Greek Week was a dance Saturday night at Clearpool where the 1969-70 Greek God and Greek Goddess were announced.

Gil Schulman, 1970 IFC president, introduces Dean Boutwell from Vanderbilt University.

Sporting Winter

With snow turning the campus into a white wonderland, students were given a chance to play as classes were cancelled.

Some inventive and daring students experimented with a parachute and water skis. Others indulged in the traditional snowball fights, while a few people were more content to the safer feat of walking in the muffled silence of the snow.

Campus Employees

Many people are employed by the university for the purpose of keeping the campus clean and safe as well as to provide services to faculty and students.

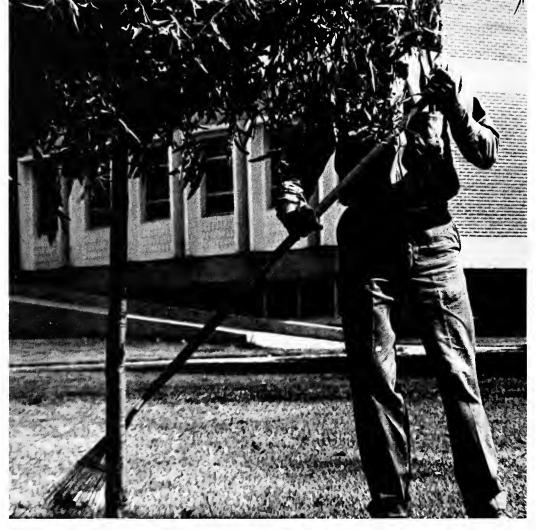

The unapplauded efforts of secretaries, bookstore personnel, maintenance and security have been expanded to provide for the growing campus and make MSU an efficient and smooth-running university.

Security police spend lonely hours of night surveillance.

Parking problems cause short quarrels between students and security officers.

Raking the grounds is one of the responsibilities of maintenance during the fall

Spring Sun and Showers

With the transition of seasons came shifting weather. One day the students would be decked with umbrellas, raincoats and boots, while on the following day the coeds would fill the sundecks atop the residence halls.

Although the weather left the students dubious as to the choice of wardrobe, they were grateful for sunny days spent at the water works, at the lake, on the golf course and on the tennis courts.

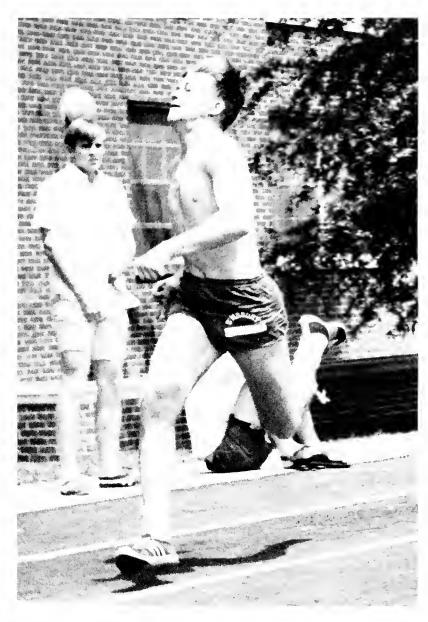

May Day

In the men's Greek competition, Lambda Chi's either won or placed high in every event to wipe their competition off of the field. Browning #3 completed their surge to become campus intramural champions with a first place finish over the independents. In the women's division Delta Zeta piled up points both on the track and in the novelty events to finish first.

Art Exhibits

Aspiring Memphis State artists were given the opportunity of displaying their work in the many exhibits on the campus. The public exposure and the honor of a public exhibition served to stimulate the creative talents in these young people and became an integral part of MSU's overall program.

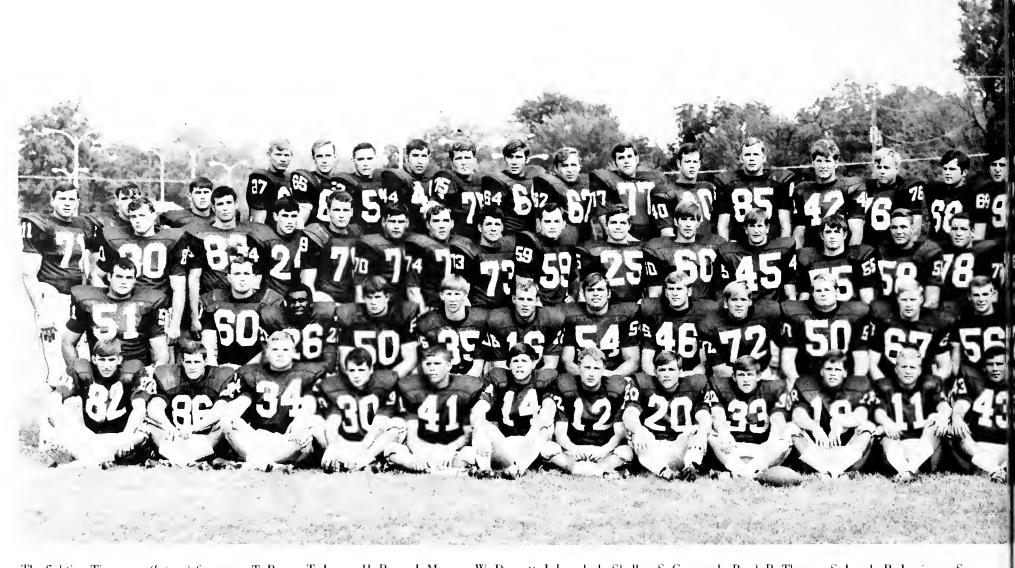

In addition many well known artists displayed their works in the Art Gallery in Jones Hall.

'69 MVC CHAMPS

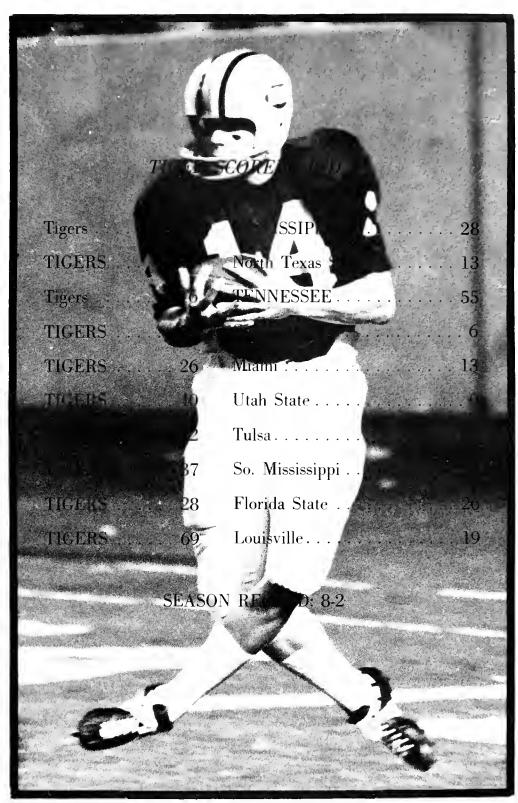

Paul "Skeeter" Gowan (20) breaks away for a long gain against Tulsa.

Coach Murphy ponders a crucial decision.

The 1969 Memphis State University football team finished the season with a 8-2 record, and for the second consecutive year won the Missouri Valley Conference Championship. Powered by a driving offense which set season records in rushing, passing and total offense, the Tigers rolled up an average of 32.8 points per game. Defensively, Memphis State was also tough, forcing 34 fumbles and intercepting 23 passes.

In the MVC, the Tigers were untouchable, defeating North Texas State in a close game and all other Valley opponents by large margins. The Tiger's two defeats were inflicted by non-league opponents, Tennessee and Mississippi. However, both of these losses came early in the season while the Tigers were still jelling into a strong unit.

Tigers Set Records;

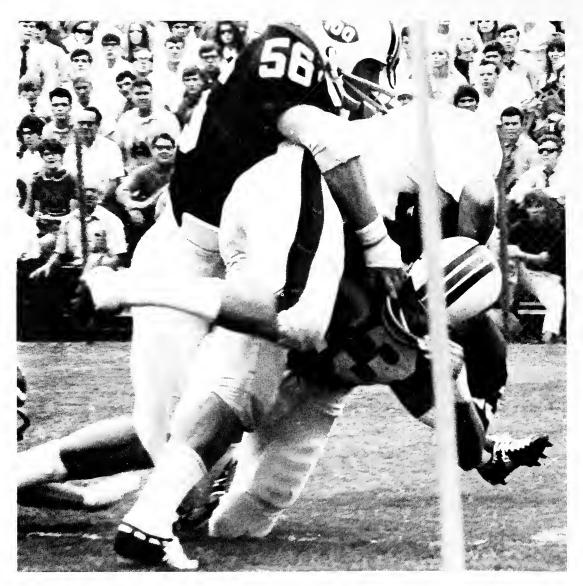

Rebs Score Points

Memphis State outgained Mississippi in total yardage (410-327) and set school records in passes attempted (46), passes completed (21) and first downs (24).

However, the Tigers scored only 3 points, 25 shy of the Rebel tally, in this twenty-fourth meeting of neighborhood rivals. Although the Tigers were unstoppable between the 20s, they could not sustain their momentum any further. Two interceptions and one fumble led to Rebel touchdowns.

Down 14-0 with 11:28 left in the first half, the Tigers began clawing their way out of the hole when Pete Weeks booted a 29 yard field goal to put the Tigers on the scoreboard.

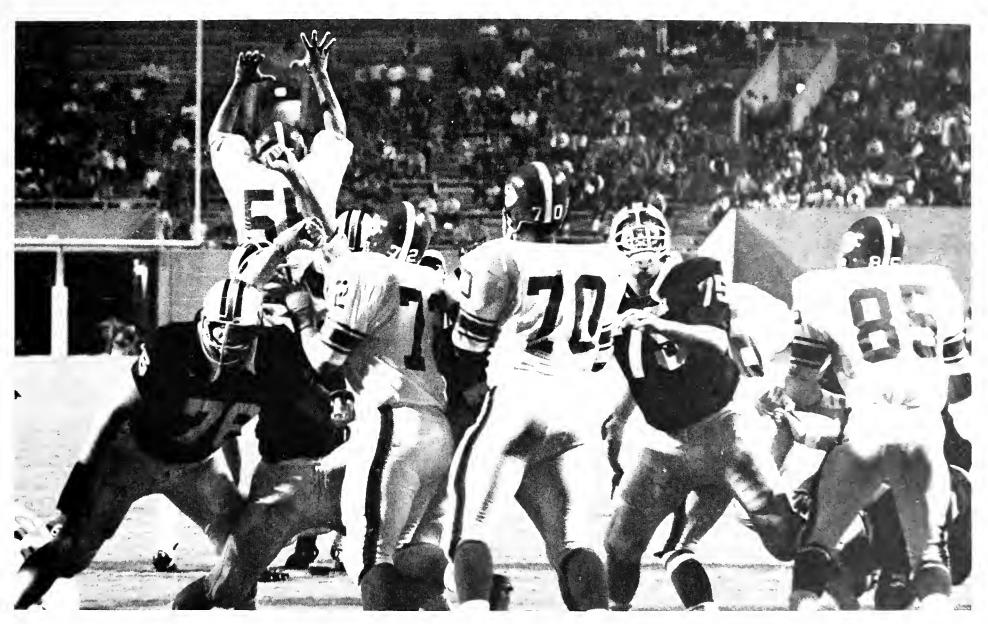

Defensive end Bobby Dees was the standout performer for Memphis State with 8 clean tackles. Safeties, Dave Berrong and Steve Jaggard, each picked off a pass for the Tigers. The final score was Memphis State 3, University of Mississippi 28.

Tigers Down North

Texas State

On third down with 38 seconds left on the Memphis Memorial Stadium clock, Pete Weeks kicked a 36-yard field goal to boost Memphis State to a 15-13 victory.

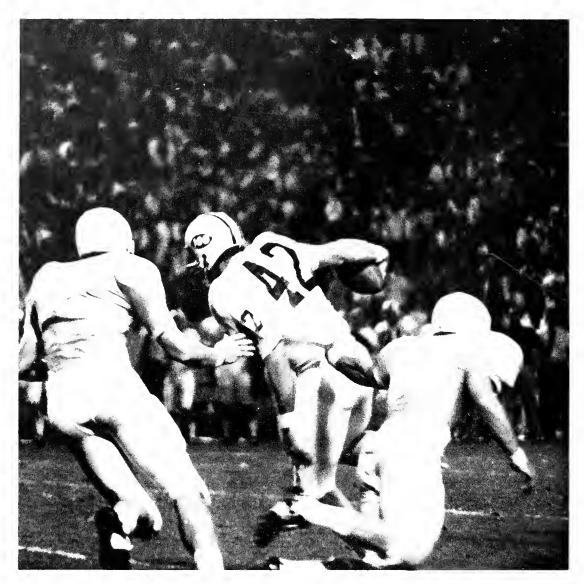

The magic moments for Memphis State began with North Texas leading 13-12, with 3:52 left in the game. Quarterback Danny Pierce, with the help of 3 receptions by Frank Blackwell and a spectacular one-handed snag by Stan Davis, moved to the North Texas 19.

Then, on a third and 10, Weeks split the uprights for the first time of the night, having had one extra point attempt blocked and missing the other one.

The rest of the game consisted mainly of fumbles and pass interceptions. Each team intercepted 4 passes, and in addition, the Tigers pounced on 4 Mean Green fumbles. North Texas led by a first period touchdown until Memphis State battled back in the third stanza.

Wingback Joe Lynch nabbed a 21-yard Danny Pierce pass in the end zone to culminate the Tigers' 62 yard scoring drive.

Then in the fourth period lightening Stan Davis scored on a 37 yard Pierce aerial to put the Tigers 6 points up. The Green battled back to lead 13-12 and roused the crowd before MSU's final drive.

After making a sensational catch, Frank Blackwell is pulled down.

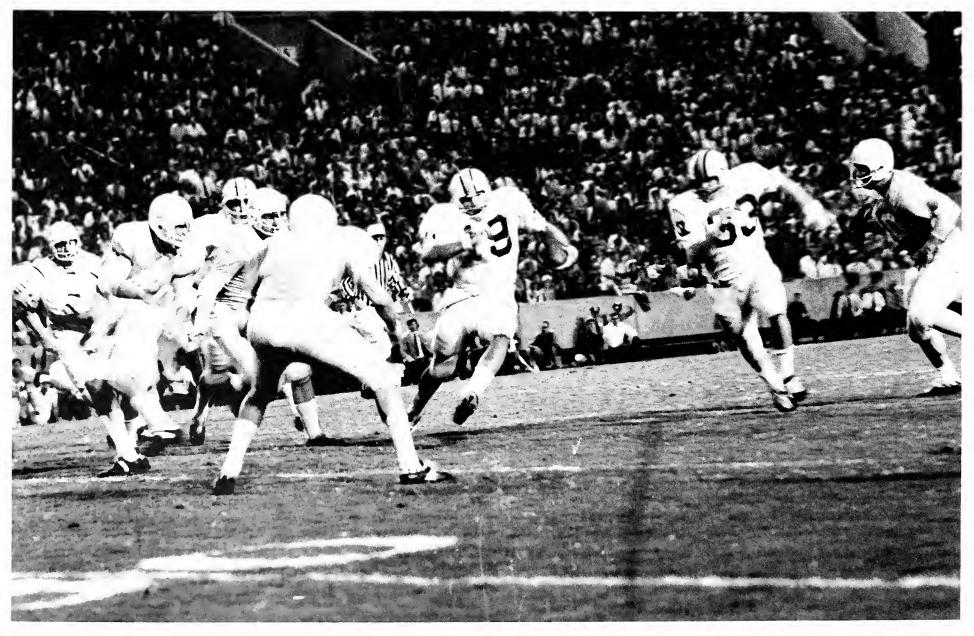

Tennessee's 'Big Orange'

Soaks Tigers

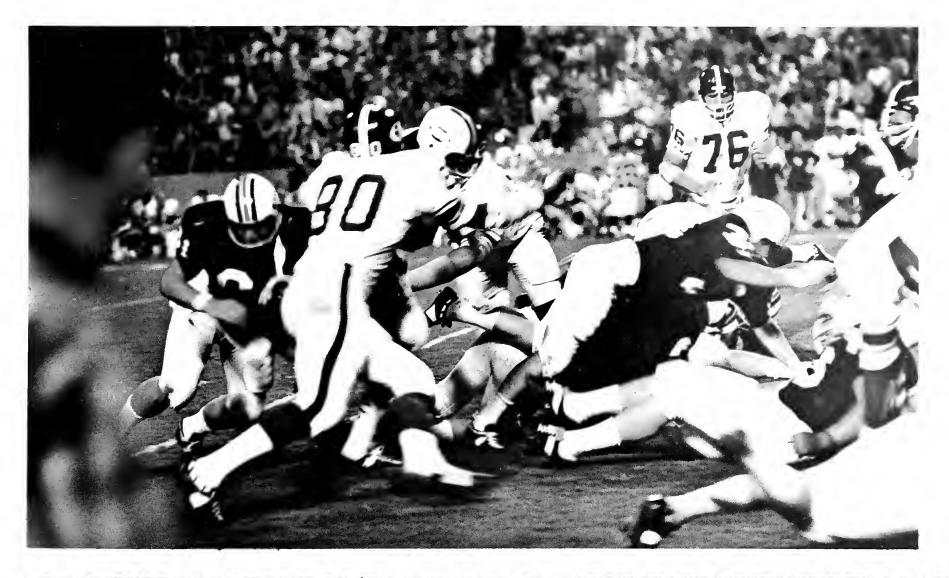

Before a sellout crowd of 50,164 Memphis State was peeled by the Big Orange. The 55-16 score was the worst defeat ever suffered by a "Spook" Murphy team, and the most points scored on the Tigers since 1935. So, all in all it was a bad night.

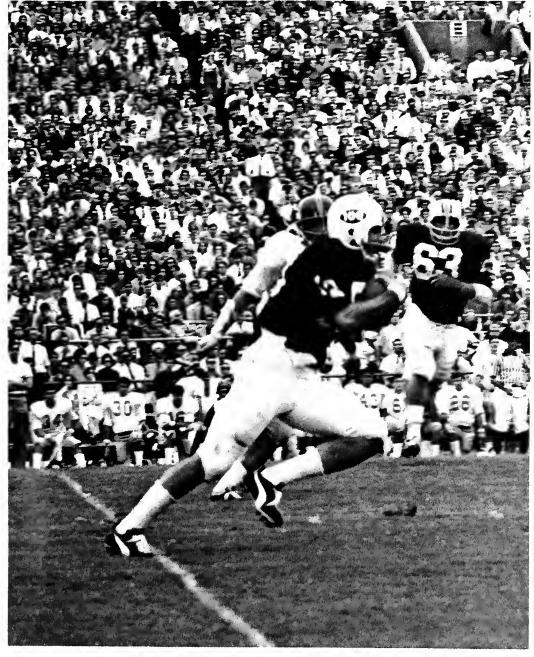

The bright spot for Memphis State was again the outstanding running of sophomore sensation Stanley Davis. Davis scored Memphis State's first touchdown in a pressure packed 8-yard run, when the Tigers still had a chance.

The Tigers looked good between the 30 yard lines for the third straight week but just could not turn the big play. Danny Pierce played a creditable game with some nice pin point passing, especially to tight end David Vaughn.

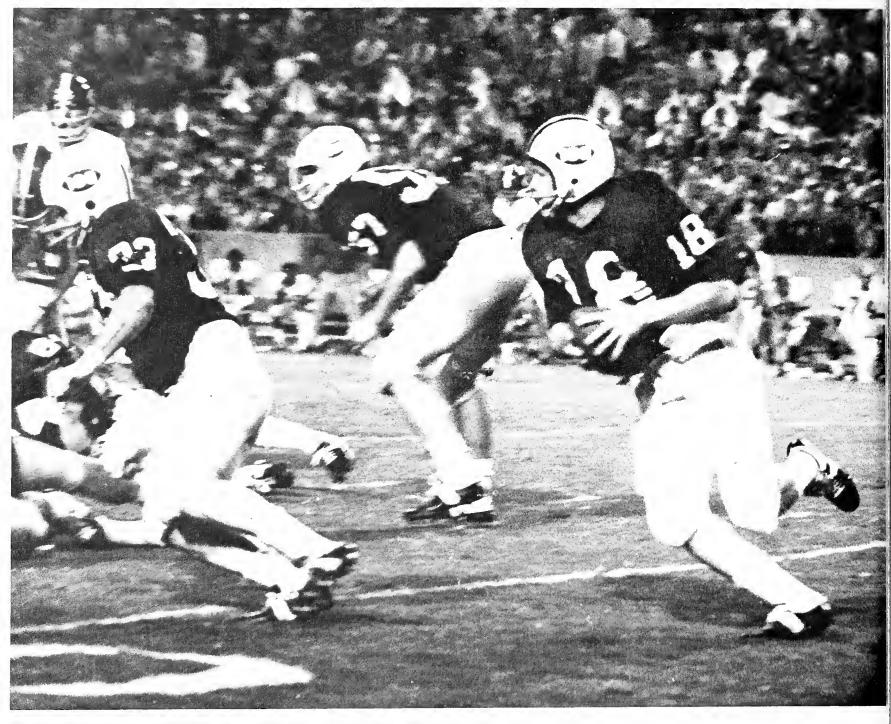

Even with Larry Bird moving in to help, Danny Pierce finds the running rough against UT.

Tigers Roar -

Cats Fizzle

The Memphis State Tigers relieved their frustrations and anxieties in the form of 52 points against the University of Cincinati in Cincinati, holding the Bearcats to only 6 points.

The Tiger defense, led by linebacker Ken Apple, held Cincinati to 202 yards total offense and put up 2 tremendous goal line stands. Defensive end Bobby Dees also was a standout as he set up 2 touchdowns by blocking 2 Bearcat punts.

MSU opened with an 88-yard drive in the first period, capped by Danny Pierce's 5-yard run. Next, Jay McCoy smashed over the one in the second stanza, and Pete Weeks' second point after touchdown made it 14-0 at the half. After intermission Pierce again scored before Rick Thurow took over and scored, also.

Weeks kicked a 29-yard field goal to open the 4th quarter. Monsterman Charles Babb picked off a Cincinati pass and strolled 47 yards for his touchdown before Paul Gowan scooted across from 4 yards and then from 9 with Weeks adding all the extra points. With 1:47 left the Bearcats ruined the Tiger shutout on a 5-yard scoring pass to make the final score Tigers 52, Cats 6

Tigers Slaughter Aggies

in Utah

Press box observers termed it the "worst over-all shellacking for the Aggies in 10 years," as the mighty Tigers routed Utah State 40-0. Memphis State piled up 418 yards while holding USU to 194 yards total offense.

On their first possession, the Tigers threatened, and on their second series, they scored. Paul "Skeeter" Gowan followed a perfect block by Larry Byrd to scamper untouched for a 29-yard touchdown, capping a 55-yard Tiger offensive.

Midway in the second period, MSU covered 80 yards in 5 plays to score on wingback Joe Lynch's bobbling snag of a 64-yard bomb by Rick Thurow. Pete Weeks added the extra points, and then line-backer John Allen blocked an Aggie punt in the end zone for a Tiger 2.

In third period action, fullback Jay McCoy crashed over from the one for a touchdown, and Pete Weeks added the extra point. Later, Weeks kicked again, this time for 3 points after Preston Riley and Danny Pierce set up the score on a 35-yard connection.

In the final period, sophomore fullback Hugh Penn scored on a 3-yard run to culminate a 6 play, 54-yard excursion. Late in the game, Thurow cranked the Tiger offense on a 67-yard drive. The touchdown came on a 10-yard pass from Stan Davis to Joe Lynch. Weeks' kick made it 40-0.

Tigers Reduce Hurricane

to Breeze

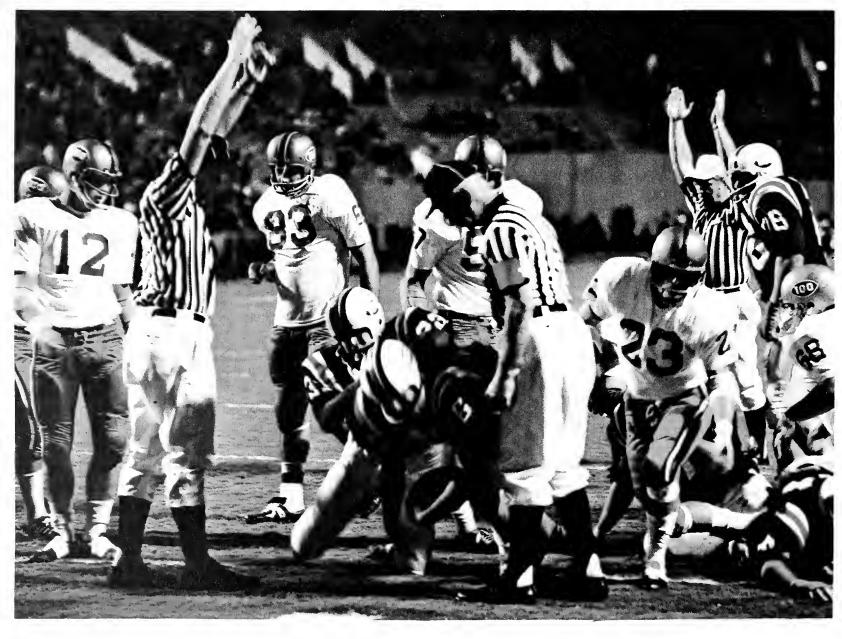

Memphis State came out to win against Miami, aggrevating the mighty Miami defense with an armload of muscle on the ground and hitting with a handful of lightening in the air. The Tiger defense pounced on two Miami fumbles and intercepted three key passes in winning the battle for defensive valor.

The Tigers scored the first time they got the football when Danny Pierce stepped in for six points. and the toe of Pete Weeks made it 7-0.

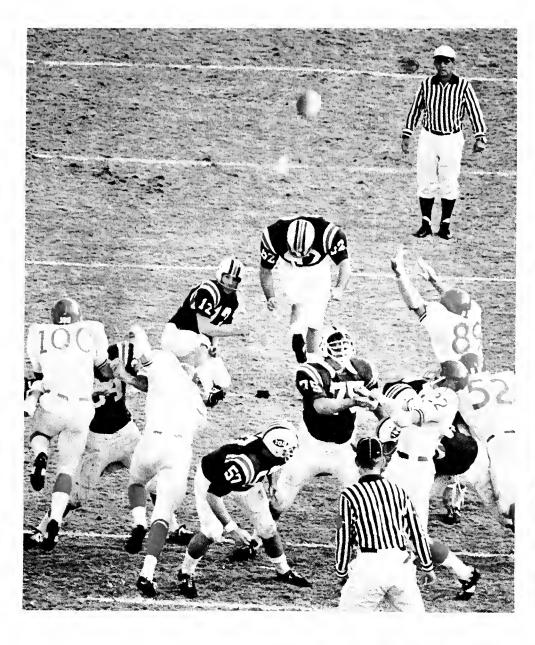

With 14:23 left in the half Miami scored on three-yard run, only to fall behind again when Ja McCoy crashed over from the three-yard line. Men phis State monsterman Charles Babb set up thi Tiger tally by recovering a Hurricane fumble at the Miami 35.

Late in the third period, Steve Jaggard intercepted a pass at the Miami 33, but the offense could not move. After a punt swap, the Tigers again had the ball and this time moved 68 yards to paydirt. Preston Riley caught a Pierce pass and raced 54 yards for the score.

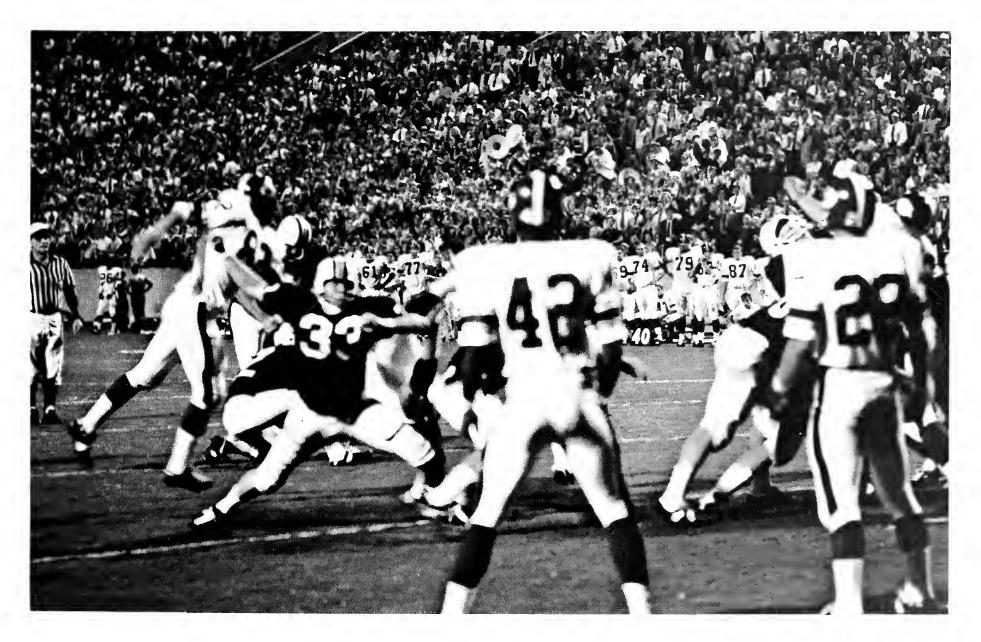

Jaggard intercepted again in the fourth period, giving the Memphis State offense possession at the Miami 43. Eleven plays later the Tigers led 26-7 as McCoy again registered on a one yard plunge, and Weeks added his touch. After Miami's final score, the Hurricane was out of wind, 26-13.

Jay McCoy crashes over from the three-yard line.

Homecoming Tigers

Feast on Tulsa

Emerging as the only undefeated team in the Missouri Valley, the Tigers rolled on to their fourth straight victory, tarnishing the power of the Golden Hurricane and establishing a trio of offensive records.

The Tigers were tough at the onset. Defensive halfback Steve Jaggard stole a Hurricane aerial at the Tulsa 33, and quarterback Danny Pierce dashed 24 yards for 6 points on the Tiger's third offensive play. Pete Weeks added the seventh.

Rick Thurow took over for Pierce as the Memphis State signal caller in the second period and, with the help of Gowan, engineered an 88-yard scoring drive in 6 plays. Thurow tromped into the end zone from 4 yards out, and with 12:22 remaining Memphis State led 14-0. Moments later, the Tigers opened the lead to 21-0 on a 36-yard crack off tackle by Gowan to climax a 65-yard march.

The fourth period brought new life to Tulsa, trailing 28-18, following another scoring romp by Gowan. Tulsa had driven to the Tiger 10 and had a first down. Halfback Bill Robey crashed through the Tiger line for 7 yards before safety David Berrong upended him at the 3. The hard lick forced a fumble, and Berrong gathered it in to end the threat.

On the Tiger's second play, Gowan again ran over left tackle for an 85-yard jaunt to the Hurricane 8. Two plays later, Jay McCoy scored. Thurow added 6 more on a 4-yard run, and with extra points by Weeks, the Tigers rolled up 42 points.

Tigers Pounce on

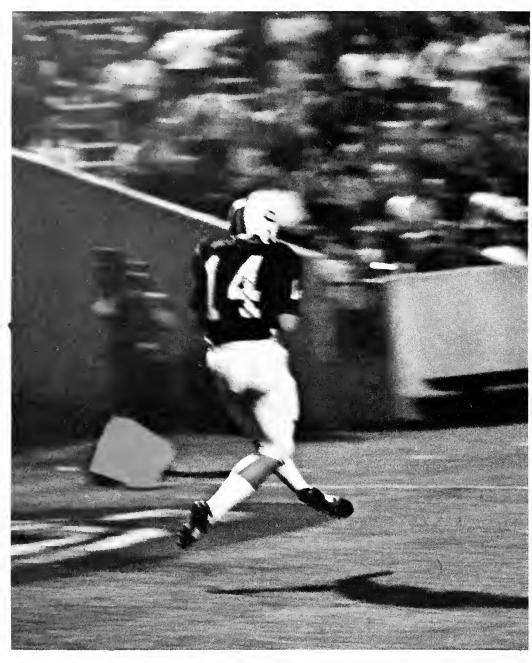

Seminoles 28-26

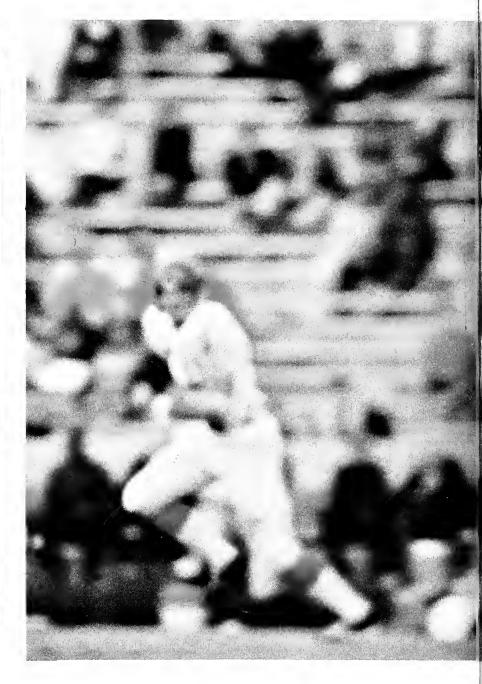

On November 15, the Memphis State Tigers danced out of Campbell Stadium with a 28-26 victory over Florida State. A missed field goal attempt with 16 seconds left assured the Tigers that they had won one of the greatest victories in Memphis State history.

The final 15 minutes opened with Florida State driving, but a jarring tackle by Louis Fernandez forced a fumble at the Memphis State 32, and Fred Almon recovered. It took quarterback Danny Pierce and tailback Jay McCoy 4 plays to move to the Seminoles 10 where, on third down, Pierce flipped a touchdown pass to split end Frank Blackwell. Weeks kicked for a 28-20 lead with 7:52 left.

Florida State roared back with a touchdown pass, and then the first sign of what was heading to an unreal finish began on the extra point. Tiger's Ken Apple and Jerry Todd broke up a twopoint pass conversion attempt which would have tied the score with 3:24 left.

When Memphis State's offense could not move, the Seminoles charged back to the Tiger 10. A delay of game penalty cost Florida State 5 yards and with 16 seconds left, Grant Guthrie went for the field goal that failed.

Frank Blackwell makes a sensational scoring catch.

Tigers Top

Southern Mississippi

With 3:09 left in the first quarter, Memphis State scored on a 28-yard pass from Danny Pierce to Frank Blackwell, and from then on the Tigers had control of the game. Early in the second period Thurow replaced Pierce and moved the Tigers 71 yards in 10 plays for another 6 points, supplying Memphis State with a 14-0 half-time edge.

In the third period, Jay McCoy crashed in from the one behind some fine blocking and Pete Weeks kicked the extra point for a 21-0 lead with 8:37 left. Five minutes later, Weeks split the uprights from 40 yards out to make it 24-0. Linebacker Ken Apple set up McCoy's second touchdown with a fumble recovery at the Tiger 47. Memphis State made it 37-0 on its next series, moving 72 yards in 7 plays. Pierce got the touchdown on a 38-yard sweep off left end.

Southern mustered a rally with only 10 seconds left in the game to make the final score Memphis State -37, Southern Mississippi -7.

MSU Obliterates

Cardinals in Season Finale

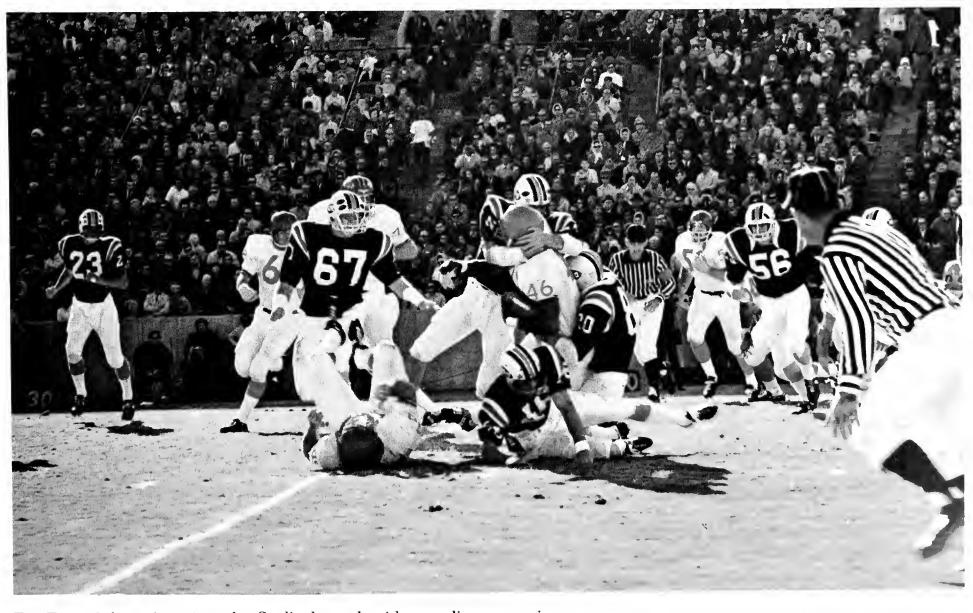

Finishing the season in the style of a champion, Memphis State regained the Missouri Valley Conference championship while thoroughly crushing the Louisville Cardinals. The Tigers cranked out a record 659 yards in total offense, compared to Louisville's 264, as they extended their winning streak to seven games.

The fireworks started early with quarterbacks Danny Pierce and Rick Thurow supplying the sparks. Pierce scored the first touchdown on a twoyard run and then passed for a trio of six-pointers. Thurow climaxed a brilliant career by scoring two touchdowns and passing for two more. Pierce passed for 146 yards and Thurow added 136. Thurow collected a total of 131 yards on the ground, mostly on the perfect execution of option plays.

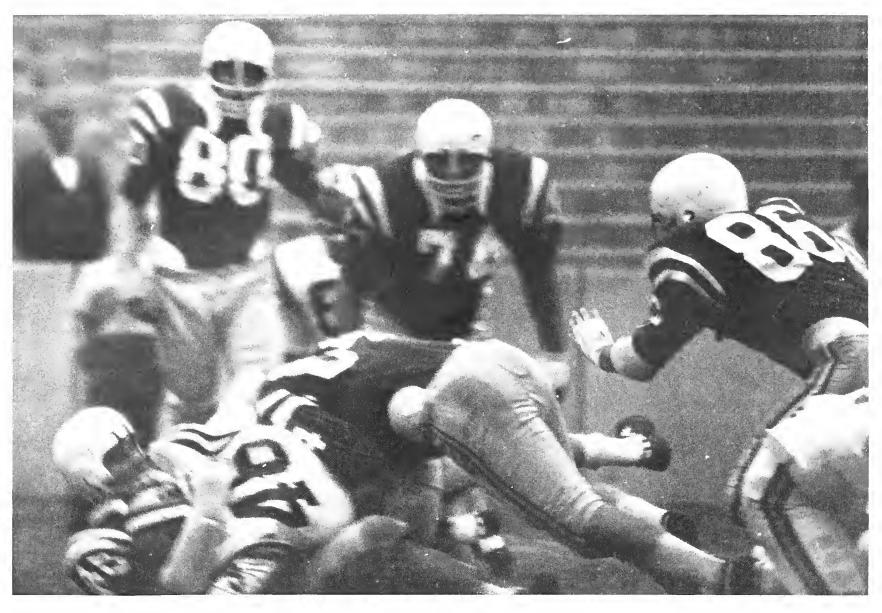

Split end Frank Blackwell hauled in two touchdown passes of 69 and 19 yards, both from Pierce. Thurow had TD passes of 6 yards to Bill Wright and 45 yards to Stan Davis. Thurow's TD runs covered six and eighteen yards. Wingback Joe Lynch took a 15-yard pass from Pierce for a score, fullback Larry Byrd added a 19-yard TD run and tailback Paul "Skeeter" Gowan tacked on a 3-yard scoring burst.

Kicking specialist Pete Weeks was perfect on 9 of 10 PAT's and claimed Tiger individual scoring honors for the season with 51 points.

Defensive stars for the Tigers included nose guard Fred Almon with 10 tackles and end Bobby Dees with 8. Halfback Steve Jaggard boosted his interception total to 8 with one theft.

Outstanding Players Develop Despite Losing Record

The Tiger Freshman team did well in the statistics and produced some fine players, but they just couldn't win the ballgames. The offense rolled up 1456 net yards and earned 71 first downs, leading their opponents. However, fumbles and penalties usually killed the Tiger drives.

Gerald Tinker and Gary Lindsey sparked the offense, while Ruben Melton was a defensive standout. Freshman coach John Cobb feels that many other future Tiger starters were developed as the players showed tremendous desire and ability.

Liberty Bowl Track Meet Tiger Ties World Record

Gerald Tinker, a Memphis State freshman from Coral Gables, Florida, stole the thunder in last December's second annual Liberty Bowl Indoor track meet in Memphis when he equalled the world record in the 50-yard dash.

The first sprinter ran the distance in 5.1 seconds to record one of the four victories the Tigers had in finishing behind Tennessee and Villanova and ahead of Arkansas in the meet.

Five school records were set by the Tigers, with Tinker's :05.1 being one of them. David Waldschmidt had a record 6.2 seconds in the 50-yard high hurdles; Raymond Peters, Lynn Fox, Maurice and Tinker had a record 2:18.3 in the 8-lap relay; Knight sailed 23 feet, 8½ inches for a long jump record; and Charles Shrum vaulted 15-6 for a pole vault record.

Basketball

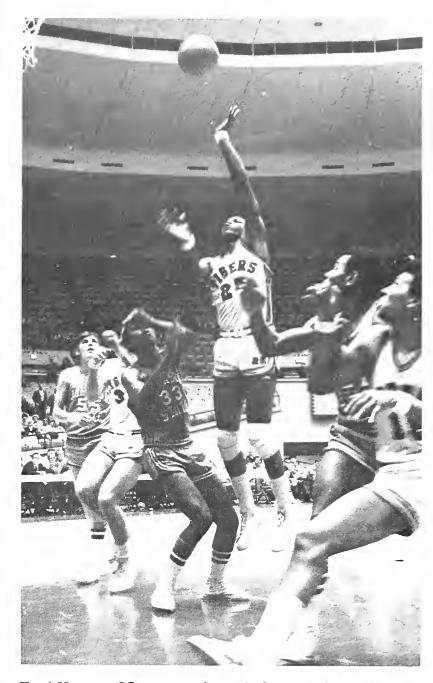

Victories Are Few

Memphis State endured its third consecutive losing season in the rough, rugged Missouri Valley Conference. Many experts felt that the MVC was the best basketball conference in the nation. Statistics proved this as there were more players from MVC schools in pro basketball than from any other conference in the country. Although victories were few, the Tigers never quit. At times morale was low, but pride and determination were always high.

Frustrated Coach Iba Leaves Memphis State

With five games left on the Tiger schedule, Memphis State University officially announced that Coach Moe Iba's contract would not be renewed for next season. The announcement produced mixed reactions among students and fans. Many felt that Iba's slowdown basketball was not suitable for the fast-breaking "run and shoot" style of the tough MVC. Coach Iba's record of 37-64 is marked by many losses by one, two, and three points and several overtime defeats. His colorful personality became a part of Memphis State University basketball.

Famine Ends As Tigers Dump Wichita State

The second half of the 1969-70 basketball season was a disaster for Memphis State University. Center Don Holcomb and forward Jesse Buchmann were ineligible for many important games. The loss of these two starters was a severe blow from which the Tigers could not recover. The lack of adequate reserves and poor shooting plagued MSU all season. The Tigers did manage to "put it all together" against Wichita. State snapping a 28 game MVC losing streak. The roar from the crowd was deafening as the players and fans ran onto the court. Victory was sweet for the Tigers as the disappointments of the past were momentarily forgotten.

Produce a Winner

The Baby Tigers won 10 games this year, and also produced some fine varsity prospects. Moe Iba brought Larry Finch, one of the most sought after basketball players in the South, to Memphis State. Averaging 25 points per game, Finch proved to be one of the brightest prospects in MSU history. Other bright spots on the Tiger freshman team were Jeff Watson, Mark Wattier and Ronnie Robinson who should provide board strength for future Tiger teams.

Coach Tim Morgan stressed fundamentals, and this was shown as the Baby Tigers were both offensively and defensively sound. His team scored 105 points against Jackson State Junior College and twice held opponents to 47 points.

GYMNASTICS

MSU Gymnasts Rated

Best in South

Under the experienced leadership of Coach Len Bryson, the Tigers earned their third straight MVC championship, and in the league finals, Memphis State gymnasts placed first in five out of six events. MSU also qualified for the NCAA finals by winning the Southern Intercollegiate Championships.

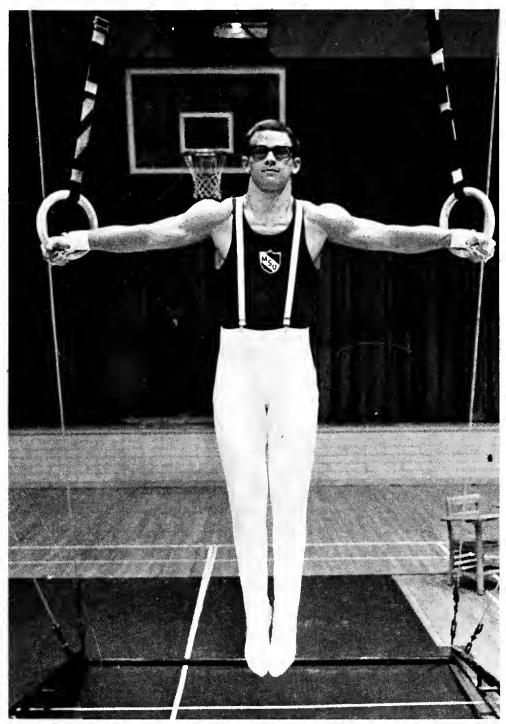

During the regular season, the Tigers lost only one meet, by nine tenths of a point, to a team which finished second in the NAIA nationals. The fact that people will support a winner is shown, as more people than ever are supporting the gymnasts. And, as interest builds, the team is growing even stronger.

Debate Team

MSU's Debate Team, which consists of 30 students, is under the direction of Charles Montgomery. The Debate Team competes in all categories of forensics including debate, discussion, oratory, exempt, impromptu and oral interpretation.

The MSU squad has distinguished itself in many intercollegiate debate tournaments and has traveled to many colleges over the nation. MSU debaters took first place in the Rio Grande Tournament, and they also sponsor the College Invitational Mint Julep Tournament, which is attended by colleges from several states.

Statesman

MSU's laboratory newspaper, the Memphis Statesman, is written and edited by students to provide them with practical experience in the executive level of news-editorial journalism.

The Memphis Statesman also provides opportunities for journalism majors to increase their capabilities by assignments that may take them to New York, Washington, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, and other areas. The trips are made possible through the Statesman by various organizations, such as Reader's Digest and Scripps-Howard Foundation.

The Memphis State University Press, reorganized and reactivated in 1968, publishes scholarly books and monographs, with the objective of disseminating works of scholarship and research to the community.

The Press, centered in the Office of the University Editor, is directed by a Board of Directors and assisted by an Editorial Advisory Board. The University Editor's Office, in addition to directing Press operations, coordinates numerous official University publications and assists staff and faculty in the preparation of brochures, booklets, handbooks and other printed pieces.

DeSoto

Innovation and change served as by-words for the 1970 DeSoto staff.

It was the first year that group pictures were employed in the Greek section. The editor's theme emphasized people in all photographs. This led to the demand for quality action shots in Greek Life, Campus Life, Organizations and other sections.

A large area of change was in the appearance of the yearbook. Alterations in the cover, paper and typography aimed at unifying the design and theme.

The Editor and Associate Editors attended the Associated Collegiate Press Convention in Miami, Florida. With five experienced staff members returning, the 1970 DeSoto again survived the trauma of new workers. Together, the staff combined colorful ideas to produce the 1970 yearbook.

Photo Service

Located in the basement of the Administration Building, the Memphis State University Photo Service provided the photographic needs of the university. Under the direction of Gilbert Michael, the Photo Service was kept busy serving the DeSoto, Tiger Rag, administration and different departments of MSU as well as all chartered organizations with necessary photography needs. Through their program ranging from black and white stills to the taking of I.D.'s and class pictures, they have achieved a better public image for the university.

WKNO-TV

WKNO-TV, owned and operated by the Memphis Community Television Foundation, has been on the Memphis State campus since 1961.

Service to the community and to the schools are the dual purposes of the community-owned television facility which is part of the public broadcasting network of more than 180 noncommercial television stations across the nation.

The Forsythe Saga, originally produced by the BBC and one of the biggest successes in British television history, was one of the outstanding offerings on Channel 10 this year. In addition, probing public affairs, documentaries and news analysis, traditional and experimental drama, book reviews, travel, music, and local and regional discussions of vital issues and concerns, were all part of the public television schedule.

WKNO-TV also produced instructional programs for use in the schools in science, math, music and the arts and provided teachers of the Mid-South who use the instructional television service with more than 22,000 Teacher Study Guides. The number of Mid-South youngsters now receiving their classroom instructions via television is estimated at 186,000.

The Mighty Sound of the South

The "Mighty Sound of the South," MSU's 165-piece marching band, is under the masterful direction of Thomas C. Ferguson, who is ably assisted by James Simmons. The band practices 15 hours a week in order to present the colorful shows seen at the half-time of each football game. The shows this year varied from a trip to the moon to a solo performance by Urbie Green, the country's top jazz trombonist.

Much time and preparation goes into each show, both in the rehearsal room and on the practice field. The marching band is definitely a vital part of our extra-curricular activities.

Vocal Music at MSU

The vocal music department at MSU consisted of many varied groups. Included were the Glee Clubs, the Chorale, Opera Chorus, and Madrigal Singers. An addition was added to the program this year. An Oratorio Society was formed, enabling those not full time students at MSU to participate in choral concerts. Recently, all six groups combined with an orchestra to present a requiem, which was conducted by Dr. Lara Hoggard, a music professor at the University of North Carolina.

Richard Tucker plays the role of Mario, a painter in love with Tosca.

Scarpia joins the Chorus in the finale to Act I of "Tosca."

MSU Drama

The Department of Speech and Drama, under the direction of Dr. Keith Kennedy, continued to grow toward being the largest performing arts department in the United States.

The extensive facilities in the Speech and Drama Building played a major role in this success. A large auditorium plus a lab theatre provided facilities for aspiring actors and actresses as well as set designers and lighting technicians.

Among the productions this year were "Something Wicked This Way Comes," "Summer Rainbow Bird," "The Fantastics" and "Noon Wine."

In addition MSU's Modern Language Department brought two plays to the campus — "Antigone" and "Esta Noche Teatro."

Organizations

Editor, Suzann Chapman

Pi Delta Epsilon

As a national honorary, Pi Delta Epsilon recognized second semester sophomores, juniors and seniors who made outstanding contributions to campus publications. A 2.3 overall average was necessary for membership.

Among the activities of PiDE, Arnold L. Malone, the State of Tennessee Director of Selective Service, was invited to Memphis State to answer questions concerning the controversial draft lottery. The organization held a banquet for new initiates and honored Bill Hetzler, 1969 DeSoto editor, for his contributions to MSU journalism.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Alpha Lambda Delta, a national honor society for women, required a 3.5 grade point average in their freshman year.

The organization offered friendship with women of similar ideals and an opportunity to participate in projects for needy families and in campus activities such as Women's Week.

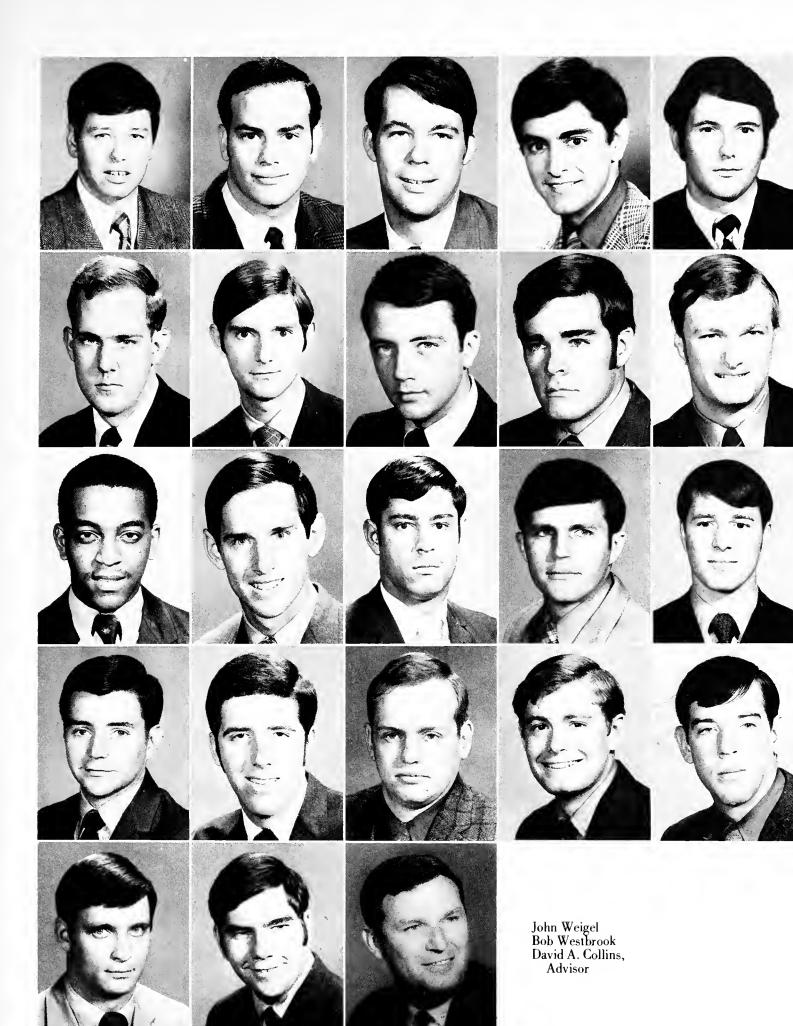

In the spring Alpha Lambda Delta culminated the year's work in the initiation of new members and in a banquet honoring their scholastic achievement.

The national men's honor fraternity, Omicron Delta Kappa, selected students who possessed leadership ability, superior scholarship and outstanding character to become members of the organization. The men must have been juniors or seniors, have maintained a 2.5 overall grade point average and have qualified through work in the major positions of college life.

Membership in the fraternity pledged students with an obligation and a responsibility toward superior citizenship at college and in the community. Enrollment was limited to one percent of the male student body, which increased the honor of being in ODK, one of the most distinguished organizations on the MSU campus.

Liberal Arts Honor Society

The Liberal Arts Honor Society was founded by Phi Beta Kappa faculty members and LAHS faculty members. Student membership was restricted to juniors and seniors in Arts and Sciences who achieved superior academic records in accordance with standards of Phi Beta Kappa. Juniors must have had a 3.6 grade average; seniors a 3.5 average.

Pi Delta Phi

A national French honor society for men and women, Pi Delta Phi, recognized excellence in the study of the French language, literature and civilization in American universities and fostered the extension of French culture in America.

To be selected for membership a student must have completed one semester and enrolled in the second semester of 3000 level French courses or above. Students selected for membership qualified with a 3.5 grade average in all French courses and not less than a 3.0 in other course work.

Tassel

Tassel was honored this year by a visit from an officer of Mortar Board in review of an application for a charter. The high point of the visit was a tea given by Tassel alumnae at the home of Dr. Cecil C. Humphreys, president of Memphis State University, for friends, members and alumnae of Tassel and Mortar Board.

Activities of Tassel this year included serving as hostesses at commencement, manning an information booth during registration, visiting young men at the Kennedy Veterans' Hospital, giving a tea for initiates of Alpha Lambda Delta and co-sponsoring, with Omicron Delta Kappa, the Annual Honors Assembly.

Membership in Tassel, senior women's honorary, is based on scholarship, leadership and service to the college community. A 3.0 grade point average is required for initiation.

Arnold Air Society

Arnold Air Society, an honorary military organization affiliated with AFROTC at Memphis State, opened its membership to select Professional Officer Course cadets. The purpose of the Arnold Air Society was to further the mission of the Air Force and to develop prospective officers of high caliber.

With its auxiliary, Angel Flight, Arnold Air at MSU rendered services to the university and the community and supported the AFROTC.

Arnold Air Society members served as hosts at various university functions and as guides for visitors to Memphis State. This year AAS sponsored the AFROTC Formal and the selection of the AFROTC Queen.

In 1969, the Memphis State squadron of AAS was named as the most outstanding squadron in the nation.

Shirley Boutwell, Carol Carney and Beverly Walls headed the Angels in the Veterans' Day Parade.

Angel Flight

The Brig. Gen. Everett R. Cook Flight of Angel Flight at Memphis State University, an auxiliary of Arnold Air society, was organized to support Arnold Air, to promote interest in the Air Force and to serve its university and community.

As the number one flight in the nation, Angel Flight included in their activities a Halloween "Trick or Treat" to collect candy for hospitalized children, the Angel Tree Fund which helped to feed needy families Christmas week and a chest of school supplies sent to children in Vietnam. Angels also participated in a Christmas party for underprivileged children sponsored by the Memphis Police Headquarters.

To be eligible for membership in this organization, girls maintained a 2.0 overall average, were freshmen or sophomores and participated in a formal rush program.

Crown Pearls

An auxiliary organization of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity, the Crown Pearls strived to promote ZBT on campus. Its charter members were chosen by the members of the fraternity.

The Crown Pearls helped in rush activities and worked to build ties of co-operation and friendship between the fraternity and the girls. They decorated the fraternity house for the annual Valentine's Party. The girls also held a dinner honoring the actives who graduated this year.

Officers included Sharon Greenfield, president; Johnye Hamra, vice-president; Joanne Kretzmer, secretary-treasurer, and Betsy Simpson, activities chairman.

AID

The American Institute of Interior Designers, a national non-profit organization, was organized in 1931 to advance standards of interior design, promote educational programs and maintain the ethics of professional practice. Through student chapters, A.I.D. broadened and enhanced, academically and aesthetically, student experience with the actual practice of interior design.

The Memphis State University chapter offered students an opportunity to exchange ideas and knowledge of interior design.

Students from chapters all over the Southeast attended a conference in Atlanta, Georgia, in the spring, where they viewed showrooms of national and international manufacturers.

American Marketing Association

Officers are (l. to r.) Sandy Crowley, president; Mary Claire Watts, vicepresident; Jody Sansone, secretary, and Vicki Koleas, treasurer.

The American Marketing Association, open to all students interested in the field of marketing, brought a closer affiliation between marketing students and the business community.

Weekly meetings were held each semester with guest speakers from every realm of the marketing profession. The meetings served as a medium to encourage students to follow marketing curriculum.

The club also encouraged scholarships among its members and students seeking a degree in marketing.

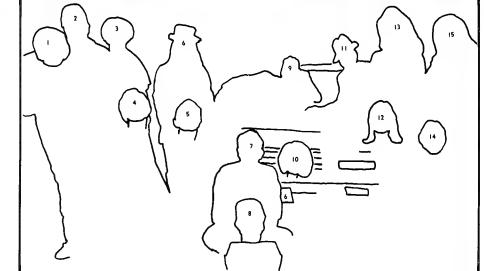

Future Secretaries

The Future Secretaries Association, sponsored by the Memphis Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, was open to women students who had completed one year in secretarial science.

The club held monthly meetings with speakers who introduced members to the role of the professional secretary. The Future Secretaries also encouraged further education through work with those engaged in the secretarial profession.

Zanthipany

Zanthipany, the club for cracked journalists, each year has paid homage to its hero and leader David Sasuachwa. This year, in making the annual visit to David's shrine, some members made the journey fully while others were only partially present. However, the dis-membered members said they sent their complete spirits.

The Zany club was too immersed in the tremendous quagmire that mere day to day existence provided to run its most glorious elections of "Sex and Guts" and "Miss Eggplant."

Zanthipany did form its crest and motto this year to be forever on display as a sign of its deep devotion to duty.

Activities were concluded at a "Wallbanger" party with the many-splendored "Frog of the Year" award being passed to Miss Gayle Carter.

Delta Sigma Pi

Delta Sigma Pi, a professional business fraternity, fostered the study of business in universities and promoted closer affiliation between the commercial world and students in business. The fraternity achieved one of its main goals, scholarship, with an over-all average of 2.6.

The fraternity offered a professional program that included tours and speakers from businesses in the Memphis area. Delta Sigma Pi also sponsored annually programs of interest to the entire campus such as its Techniques of Interviewing clinic and its Mid-South Office Machines Show. It presented a scholarship key to the graduating male senior in business with the highest scholastic average.

Delta Sig socialized with informal gettogethers on weekends, the Founders Day dance and the formal Rose Ball.

Membership was open to those students who had completed 12 semester hours, three in business administration and who had at least a 2.0 grade point average.

Pi Sigma Epsilon

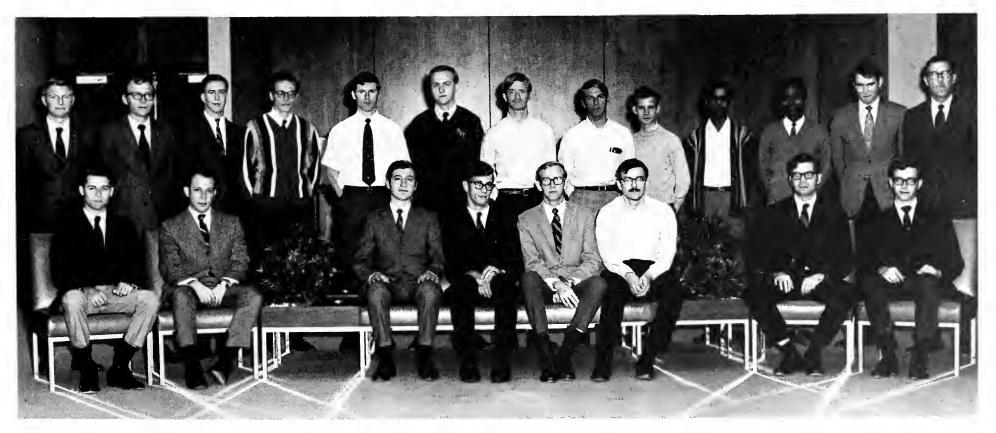

Pi Sigma Epsilon, a national professional fraternity for undergraduate men, was organized to promote interest in marketing, sales management and selling as professions. The fraternity stimulated research and improved methods and techniques in these fields. It also instilled a high professional standard among its members.

Meetings were held twice a week with featured guest speakers and other programs.

I.E.E.E.

The Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, the professional organization for electrical and electronic engineers, and its student branch at Memphis State University focused attention on the dissemination of knowledge of the theory and practice of all aspects of electrical engineering. Electronics, radio, allied branches of engineering or related arts and sciences were also incorporated into the programs.

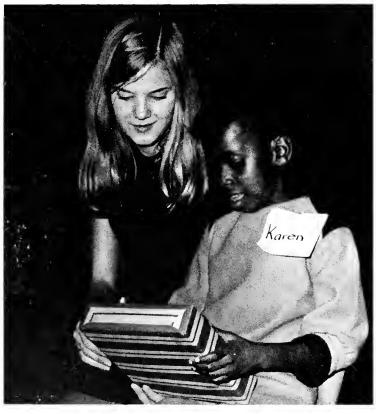

Membership was open to those students who were studying a major course in electrical engineering or its allied branches.

Christian Student Center

The Christian Student Center fostered interest in Biblical studies by offering several Bible courses each semester which were accredited by Harding College in Searcy, Arkansas. These courses were taught by Terry Smith, the full-time director of the student center.

The students also had mid-day worship services. The sharing of fellowship and Christian ideals and the friendliness displayed, drew many Memphis State students to the CSC.

Carol Newsom provides a lesson during the Service of Festival of Lessons and Carols.

Hillel

Hillel was established at the University of Illinois in 1923, and has since grown to more than 240 chapters at various colleges.

The Memphis State University chapter, which served as the focal point for Jewish interests on campus, was supported by National Hillel, B'nai B'rith and the Jewish Community Center.

Hillel members conducted a traditional Oneg Shabbot every Friday afternoon and held dinners twice a month.

Barth House

Barth House, the Episcopal Church's Chaplaincy to Memphis State University, was founded in 1958.

By Sunday and week-day services, seminars and conferences, Barth House maintained the Church's tradition of liturgical worship, witness and work in the university.

The chaplaincy sought to relate faith and reason, to promote interdisciplinary relationships and to hold a vision of academic excellence and service to mankind.

Wesley Foundation, a religious center open to all Memphis State University students, provided numerous facilities such as a lounge with television, stereo and magazines, a study room and a stage area.

Wesley was governed by members who were active in and committed to a Christian Ministry through the foundation. The center's purpose was to relate the life and teachings of Jesus Christ to the present age and to the college community.

Two "commuter noon dinners" each week were sponsored by the foundation. There was also a Sunday Chapel Service.

A new stereo in the pit brings students together for a time of fellowship.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union operated this year without the guidance of a director. Much of the responsibility was shared by the Executive Council and other members of the BSU.

In November, the state BSU convention was held in Memphis with approximately 800 students attending. Two Memphis State representatives were nominated to be state officers of the Tennessee Baptist Student Union, comprised of BSU's on 28 campuses.

The local summer missions' goal of $2000 was part of the state goal of $18,000 to send dedicated BSU members all over the world to do mission work.

It was the hope of the MSU Baptist Student Union to go outside the realm of regular BSU activities and to become deeply committed to the concerns of the college community.

Gamma Eta Chapter

The fall semester began with excitement as Alpha Delta Pi won Sigma Chi Derby Day for the second consecutive time. Other highlights included the Big-Little Sis Retreat, fraternity Christmas Caroling, Halloween and Christmas parties, Philanthropic projects and a Christmas Devotion for Panhellenic.

Individual honors that Alpha Delta Pi's were proud of included DeSoto Beauty Revue Queen, Miss Memphis, alternate to Homecoming Queen, cheerleaders and sweethearts of Pi Kappa Psi, Kappa Alpha and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Alpha Delta Pi's were members of Tassel, Angel Flight, Who's Who, Town Council and the University Center Program Board.

Spring semester for ADPi included a newly decorated suite, Friendship Week and the annual Hearts and Flowers Formal.

Beta Omega Chapter

Alpha Xi Delta participated in many campus and community activities. The Memphis State faculty was entertained with the traditional Apple Polishing. The Boy's Optimist Club enjoyed the presents they received at the philanthropy Christmas party.

Beauty and personality aided in Alpha Xi's capturing the title of Miss Congeniality and placing as a finalist in the DeSoto Beauty Revue.

Scholarship played a leading role with Alpha Xi's in Alpha Lambda Delta, Tassel and on the Dean's List. Panhellenic presented Alpha Xi with the Most Improved Scholarship this year.

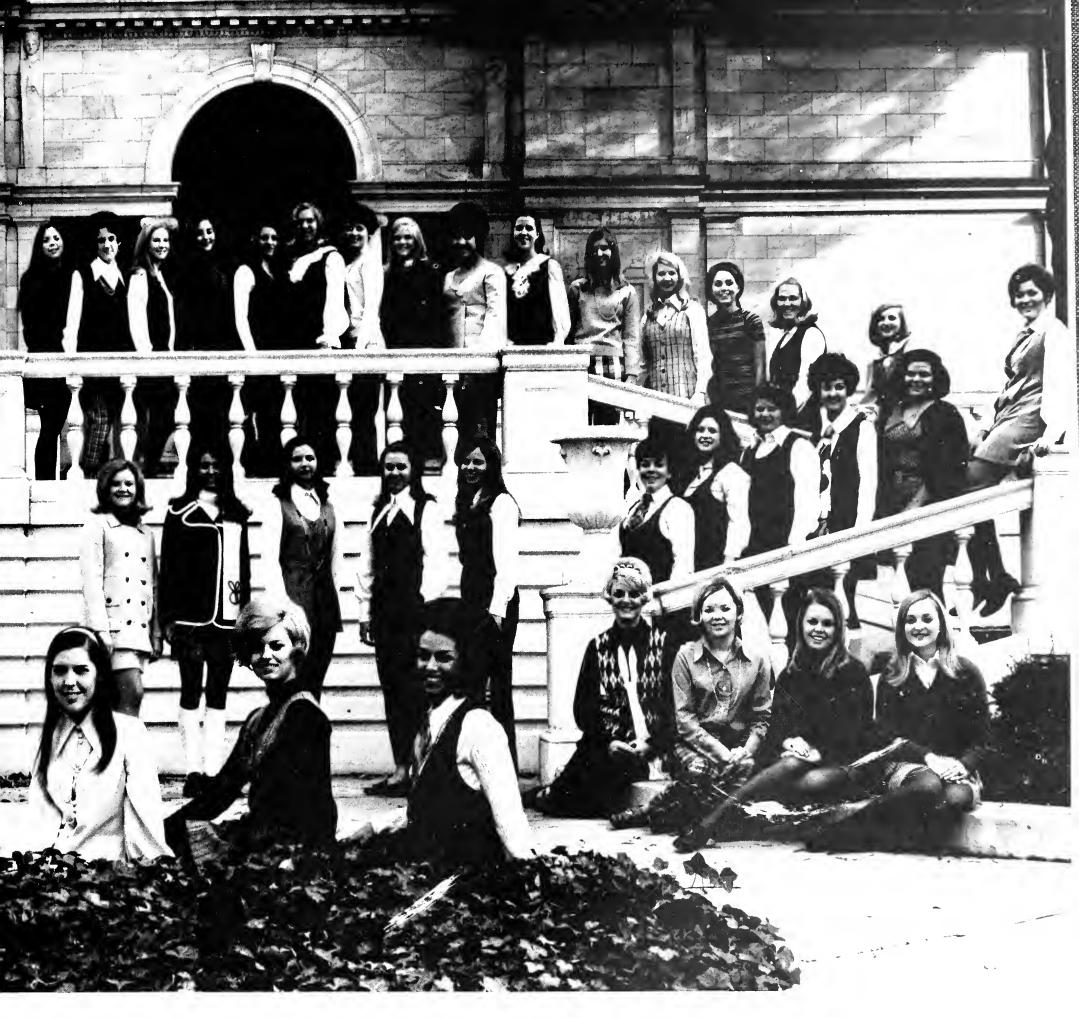

SGA senators, All-Sing chairman and Panhellenic and individual club officers were just a few of the activities that gave Alpha Xi's a place in Who's Who. Alpha Xi Delta enjoyed working with the fraternities through membership in Crescents, Pikettes and ATO sweethearts clubs.

Delta Lambda Chapter

Alpha Phi sponsored three main social functions during the year — a barn dance, a Christmas Dance and a spring formal and banquet. Intermediate dinners and banquets were held throughout the school year including one for the faculty, a standards dinner and a scholarship dinner.

Pledge swaps and a semester pledge project rounded out extracurricular activities.

Alpha Phi's philanthropic project, known throughout the Mid-South as an integral part of the Cotton Carnival, was a french sidewalk cafe with music and sketching artists — a complete atmosphere to raise money for the heart fund.

Beauty titles, fraternity honors, scholarship honors and athletic intramural awards brought recognition to individual sisters.

Alpha Phi's took special pride in the individuality of their sisters, each pursuing her own varied interests. Outwardly, this individuality was exemplified by their choice of uniform based on each girl's own variation of a basic style.

Gamma Alpha Chapter

ГФВ

Gamma Phi Beta stressed the importance of philanthrophy this year by giving several parties, including a Christmas party with toys and candy for the underprivileged children around the police Service Center on Hastings. Santa Claus was present to distribute the gifts.

Social activities included the annual Pink Carnation Ball at the Rivermont, a barn party at Hickory Hills, the Romeo Picnic, a kidnap breakfast, slumber parties and teas.

Gamma Phi Beta boasted captain of the cheerleaders, chairman of the UCPB Hostesses and an officer of Orchesis. Members were also named to Angel Flight, the Dean's List, Who's Who and various honoraries.

Delta Zeta Chapter

Delta Zeta Chapter of Delta Gamma was proud to have three candidates nominated for Miss Memphis State. However, it made campaigning a little confusing with each DG supporting four candidates in a single election, but it was worth the work, for a Delta Gamma was selected as Miss Memphis State.

The pledge class was given the award for Best Spirit at Sigma Chi Derby Day. Delta Gamma also participated in the Homecoming Float competition, All-Sing and won second place in May Day.

Among many campus activities Delta Gamma was represented in Tassel, UCPB Hostesses, Who's Who, Crescents, Golden Hearts, Les Dames, Ambassadors Board, DeSoto editor, SGA, dormitory officers and counselors and AWS.

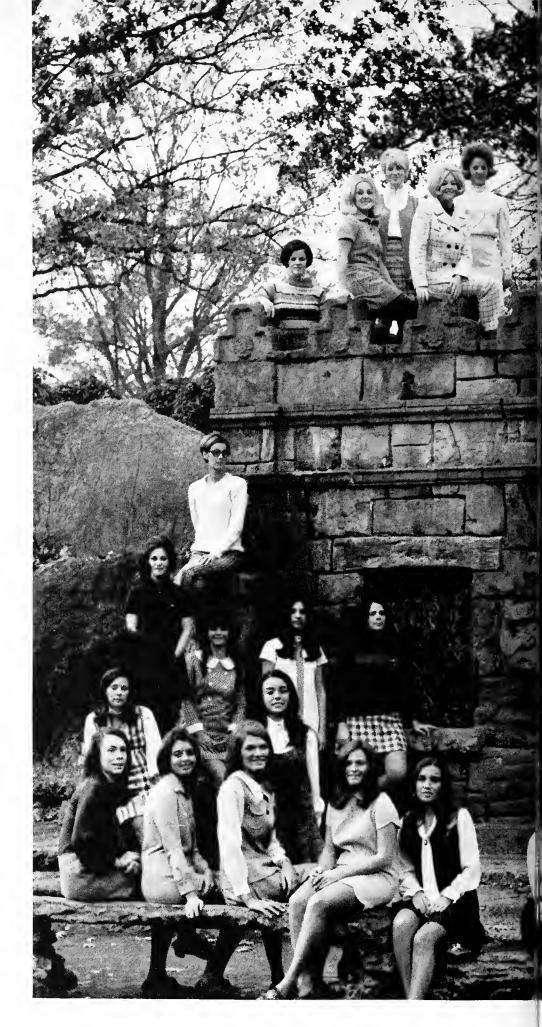

Gamma Iota Chapter

ΔZ

This year Delta Zeta boasted having Greek Goddess and Greek God, AFROTC Queen and first alternate, Lambda Chi Alpha Sweetheart and a finalist in the DeSoto Beauty Revue. DZ also placed in All-Sing, May Day, Homecoming Float competition and Women's Intramurals.

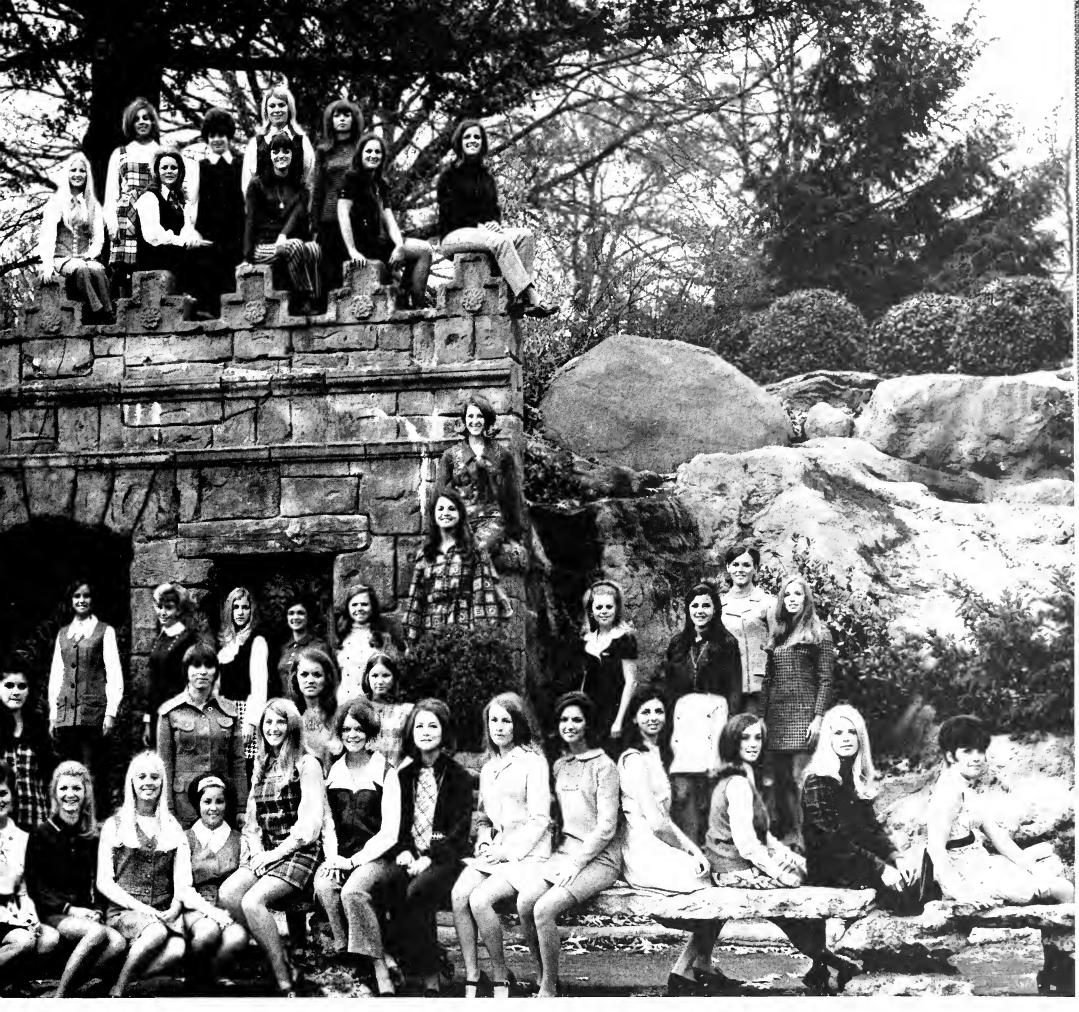

Delta Zeta won first alternate for Sigma Chi Derby Doll and Miss Shape, the Most Outstanding Dancer Award and Tennessee's Tennis Championship. Other activities included the president and the secretary-treasurer of the Women's Residence Hall Association, chairmen two judicial boards, secretary and supreme court justice of the Student Government Association, president of Orchesis, members in Angel Flight, Alpha Lambda Delta and UCPB Hostesses.

The climax of DZ's year was their annual presentation of DZ Follies, the proceeds of which were donated to the Memphis State Panhellenic-IFC Scholarship Fund.

Epsilon Kappa Chapter

Delta Sigma Theta promoted high cultural, intellectual and moral standards among its members, for its own benefit and for that of the larger society in which it existed. These six young women saw the need for more black involvement at Memphis State University.

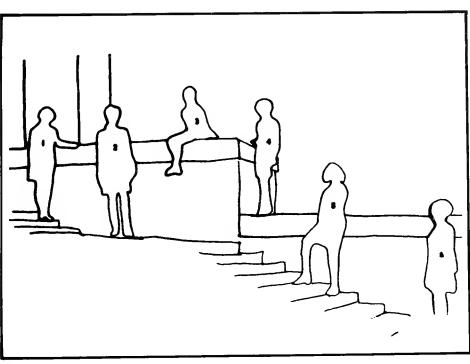

The sorority prospered and gained many honors this year. Among these were the first black elected member of SGA and the first black on the Executive Board of the UCPB. Delta Sigma Theta was the first black group to enter the DZ Follies and win first place in the poster competition, and was the first to enter All-Sing.

All Deltas looked forward to their Peppermint-Sweetheart Ball where they claimed their sweetheart for the year.

Rho Gamma Chapter

ZФB

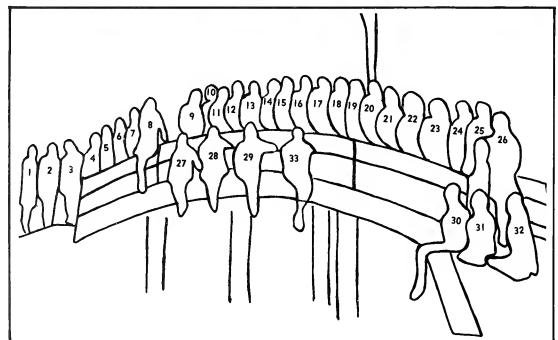

Through the encouragement of the brothers of Phi Beta Sigma, Zeta Phi Beta was founded on the campus of Howard University in 1920. Zeta strived to carry out the ideals of scholarship, womanhood, character and service.

Rho Gamma Chapter was established on the campus of Memphis State University in 1968. Rho Gamma had, for its fund raising project, the Blue Revue from which it gave scholarships, provided eyeglasses for indignant children, and sponsored the "Books for Children" project. The members also taught handicrafts and verbal expression to indignant children. The chapter furnished free transportation services for parents and children to view such places of interests as the Memphis Museum and the Brooks Memorial Art Gallery.

This year, Rho Gamma was proud to have one of its members serve as the president of the National Panhellenic Council.

Tennessee Delta Chapter

The sisters of Pi Beta Phi, boasting members of Angel Flight, Who's Who, Alpha Lambda Delta and Tassel, were also avid participants in UCPB Hostesses, SNEA, Orchesis and Tigerettes. Several leaders of AWS committees, members of the Executive Judicial Council and officers of the Womens' Residence Halls were also Pi Phi's.

Along with its civic activities, members of Pi Beta Phi gathered together for pledge retreats, fraternity serenades, Derby Day, and intramural sports, where they captured the second place trophy for volleyball. A pledge swap with Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity was a highlight for the fall semester, and working together with Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, the girls won second place in the Homecoming Float competition. A slumber party and the annual Wine Carnation Ball were very much enjoyed during the winter.

Having beauty and talent as well as spirit, the sisters of Pi Beta Phi claimed Homecoming Queen, Greek Godess, two alternates to the De-Soto Beauty Revue, a Miss Liberty Bowl finalist and the regional Miss Wool.

Kappa Lambda Chapter

ΦM

Phi Mu sorority began an active fall semester with a dinner at the Passport Room for its pledges. Honors attained by Phi Mu's were Derby Doll, Miss Nashville, Sigma Chi Sweetheart and second place in DZ Follies.

Phi Mu had members in Angel Flight, Tassel, Who's Who, SGA and Alpha Lambda Delta. The sorority also claimed places in sweetheart clubs and 1969 cheerleaders.

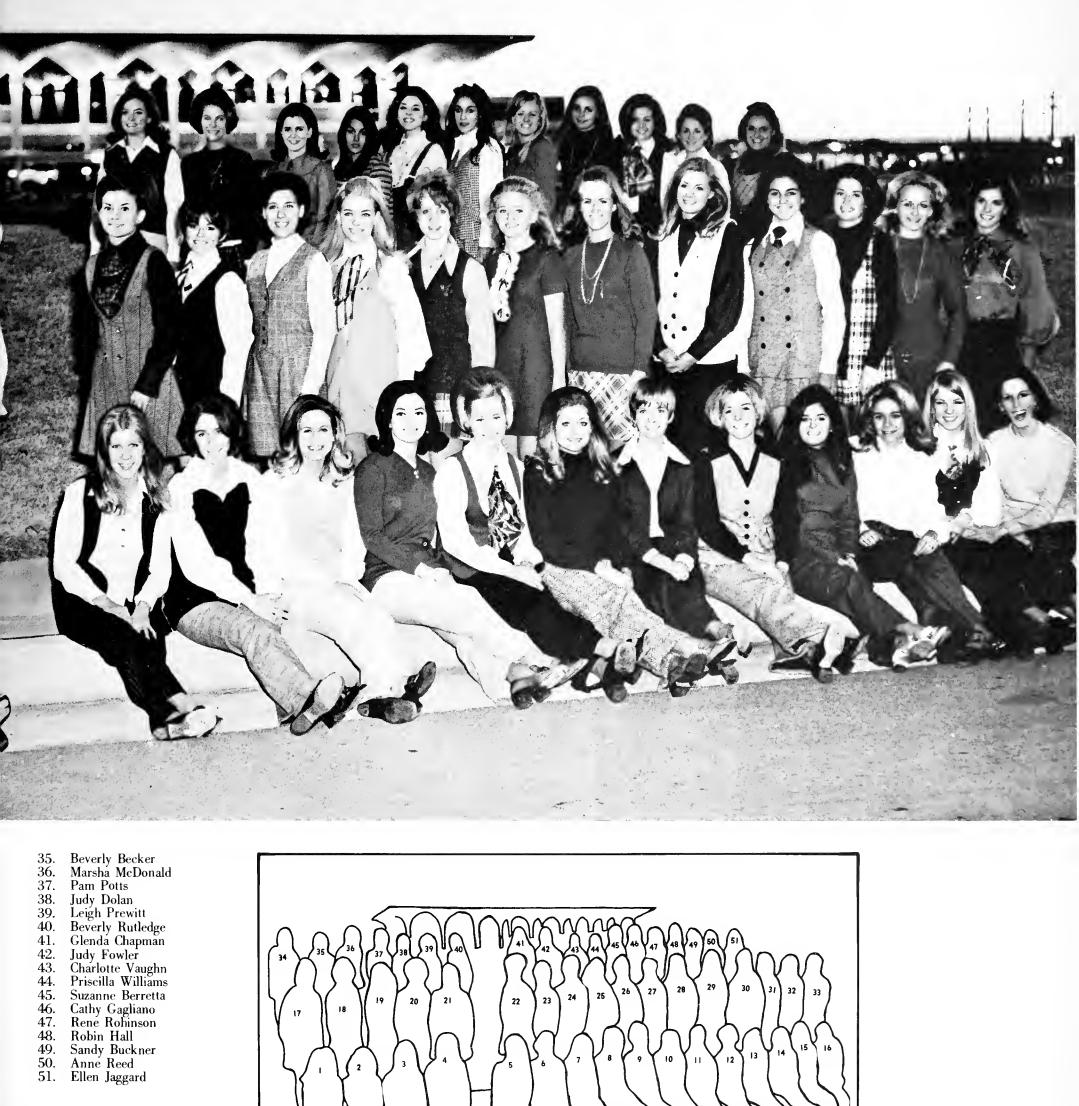

This past year also saw a variety of projects for the chapter. Actives and pledges worked with Kappa Alpha fraternity in Homecoming Float competition, gave a party for the Memphis Deaf Children's School, held a Founder's Day luncheon and sponsored a scholarship dinner.

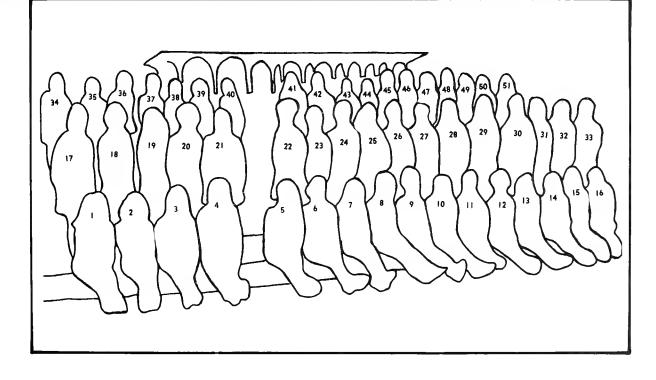

Other activities included a weekend pledge swap with Sigma Alpha Epsilon, a barn party and the annual Enchantress Ball.

Sigma Gamma Chi Chapter

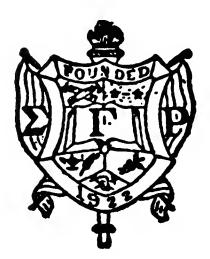

Sigma Gamma Rho was organized in 1922 at Butler University. Symbolized by royal blue and gold, they strived to motivate youth to greater achievement, wholesome living, inspired actions and exploring new horizons.

The Sigmas exhibited great spirit when attending their major events throughout the year. Founders' Day was celebrated in November with excitement, as well as the "Blue and Gold Ball" in January.

The "Boule," a great gathering of all the chapters of Sigma, was a most rewarding and unforgettable week of joy. Gamma Chi's annual tea and fashion show was inspirational and enjoyable.

But the greatest joy was experienced when Sigma Gamma Rho contributed to the children of St. Jude Hospital.

Epsilon Epsilon Chapter

The sisters of Alpha Kappa Alpha found many community projects to include along with their annual social projects. Besides looking forward to the sorority's semi-annual dances, AKA had two goodwill projects during the school year and worked with the national NAACP-AKA project with the Memphis NAACP. The new pledge class decided to make the sorority's Cleveland Job Corp project a part of their program.

The sorors enjoyed a close relationship and worked very hard with members from other chapters. In spring the Epsilon Epsilon Chapter, along with other Memphis chapters, acted as official hostesses for the sorority's Southeastern Regional Conference in Memphis.

Alpha Kappa Alpha maintained the highest scholastic average of the National Panhellenic Council at Memphis State.

Expressions Reflect Derby Day Competition

Expression may tell a story without the aid of words, but that expression must have a source, or what one might call a stimulus. Derby Day of 1969-70 was definitely a day of sufficient stimuli to yield a quantity of expression as demonstrated by these photographs.

Derby Day is a highlight of Greek activity on the MSU campus and is sponsored by the Sigma Chi Fraternity. Festivities include races and games performed by sorority pledges and a Derby Day dance that night.

Pledges compete in all the events of Derby Day, hopefully to win a trophy for their sorority. Also, each sorority chooses a pledge to enter the "Derby Doll" and "Miss Shape" contests. These activities are climaxed by the Derby Day Dance, where the winners of all events are announced.

Alpha Delta Pi won the novelty events for the second consecutive year. Derby Doll was Pricilla Williams of Phi Mu, and Teri Strickland of Alpha Phi was Miss Shape of Sigma Chi Fraternity for 1969-70.

DZ Follies All-Sing

Broadway came to Memphis State through skits presented by fraternities, sororities and individuals in the 1969 DZ Follies.

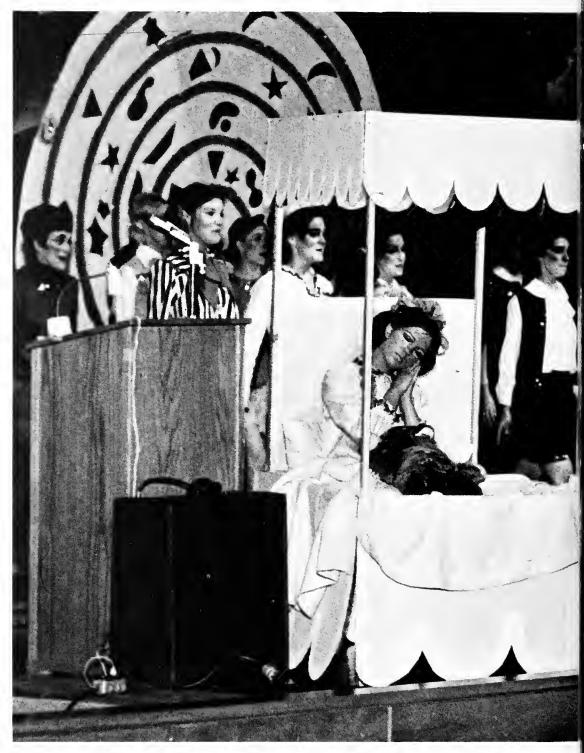

First place for sororities went to Alpha Gamma Delta with their presentation of "Fiction Is Often More Fascinating." Pi Kappa Alpha won first place for the fraternity division with "Camel Hair."

Other unusual entries included Sigma Alpha Epsilon's "Bugville on Broadway" which placed second in fraternity competition and Phi Mu's entry on contemporary events which took second place in the sorority division.

"A Song for All Seasons" was the theme for the 1969 All-Sing, co-sponsored by the IFC and Panhellenic Council. Raincoat-clad Lambda Chi Alpha earned first place with a medley of "Rain" songs, while Sigma Phi Epsilon placed second.

Delta Zeta won top honors in sorority competition with a "Roses" theme and Alpha Delta Pi took second.

Proceeds from All-Sing and DZ Follies went to IFC and Panhellenic Council scholarship funds.

ACACIA

While striving for academic excellence, the brothers of Acacia still found time for a full social program. The fall semester brought the traditional Black and Gold Formal. Spring was the season for the costume ball "Nite on the Nile," "White Wabbit Party" and the sweetheart ball. Barbara Edminston of Alpha Gamma Delta was Acacia's sweetheart.

Various special projects included a Christmas visit to underprivileged children with the Zaman Gotto Organization, which exemplified Acacia's motto of human service.

Acacians participated in the Southern Region Softball Tournament at the University of Georgia in the spring.

AEII

Scholarship, a hallmark of Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity endeavor, was the main effort during the 1969-70 school year. Climaxing their scholastic drive AEPi had an unprecedented number of members selected for ODK, Senators, and Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Aside from AEPi's scholastic movement they also made time for an active social program. This included parties after the Memphis State football games and extra parties throughout the year.

On campus AEPi had members in positions in the Student Government Association, Inter-Fraternity Council, University Center Program Board and The Tiger Rag.

During the year, Alpha Tau Omega participated in All-Sing, placed high in intramural competition and finished third in May Day.

ATO held top positions in the Student Government Association and other campus organizations. Among these were president of Omicron Delta Kappa, SGA Social Activities director and chairman of Homecoming Committee.

The community service project was the refurnishing of a Police Community Relations Bureau.

The highlight of the year was the annual White Tea Rose Formal. Diane Horn was crowned Sweetheart of ATO and Fred Massa was given the traditional gavel as outgoing president.

The Taus are anxiously awaiting completion of their new $360,000 house located on the new Fraternity Park. The completion date is set for June, 1970.

KA

The Gamma Gamma Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order again assumed positions on the Memphis State campus. The KA's abilities were utilized in such organizations as the IFC, Omicron Delta Kappa, Senators, Student Government Association and other organizations.

The pledge class participated in several charity drives and community projects, while the chapter competed in intramurals this year.

The brothers of Kappa Alpha took pride in their weekend parties, the Old South Ball in December and the Black and White Formal in the spring. Activities included extending invitations, the Slave Party on Friday, sipping mint juleps on Saturday afternoon and the ball Saturday night. The Black and White weekend was climaxed with a skiing trip to Pickwick Dam.

Epsilon Pi Chapter

In the year 1869 the first Kappa Sigma Chapter was established at the University of Virginia. From one chapter Kappa Sigma developed into 164 chapters and five colonies in the United States and Canada. Epsilon Pi was part of this growth.

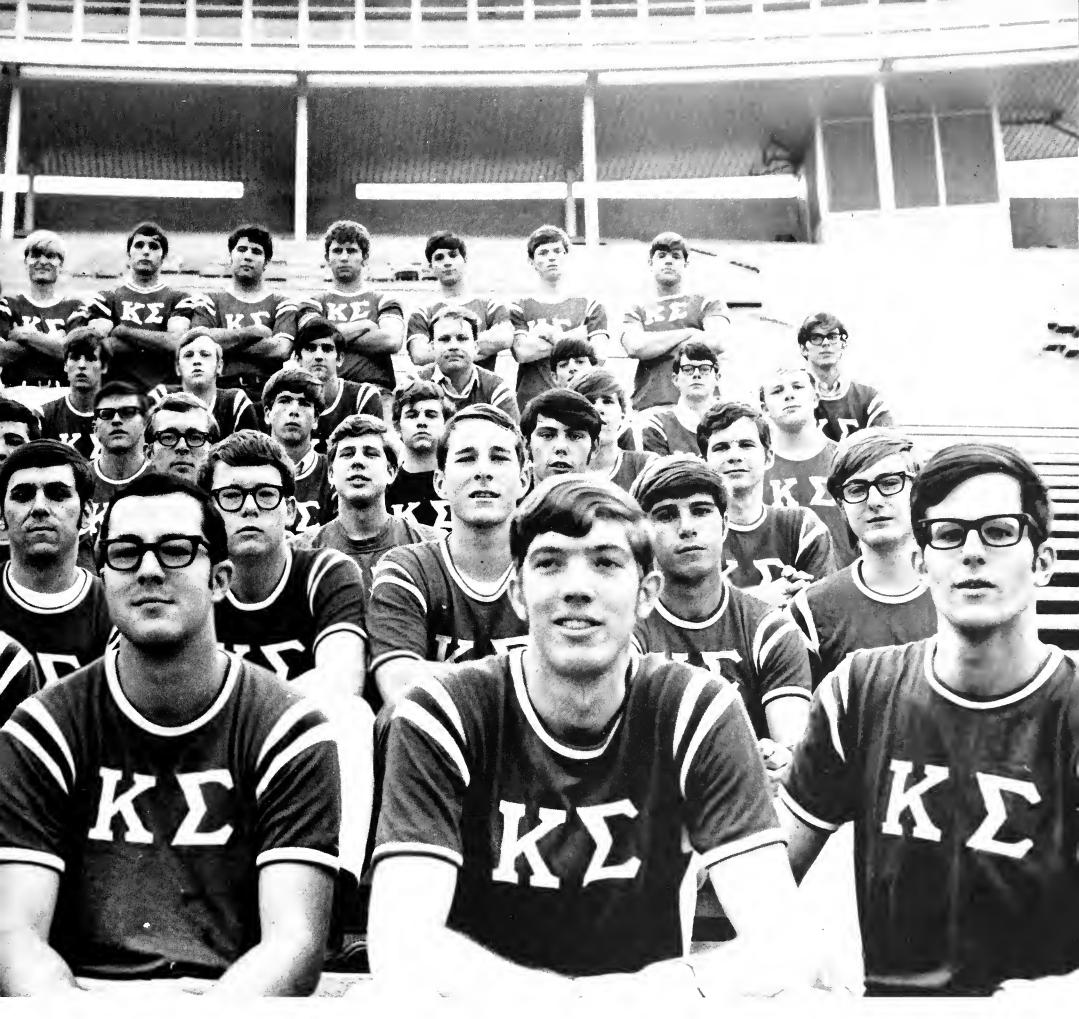

The Fall Semester started with a Rush which fielded many pledges. The chapter, along with Delta Zeta sorority, won first place in the Homecoming Float Contest.

The pledges, showing great spirit, won the Pledge May Day track meet and helped win second place in the Thanksgiving "Turkey Trot."

Zeta Theta Chapter

During the past year, Lambda Chi Alpha succeeded in the fields of intramurals, scholarship, campus leadership and community service.

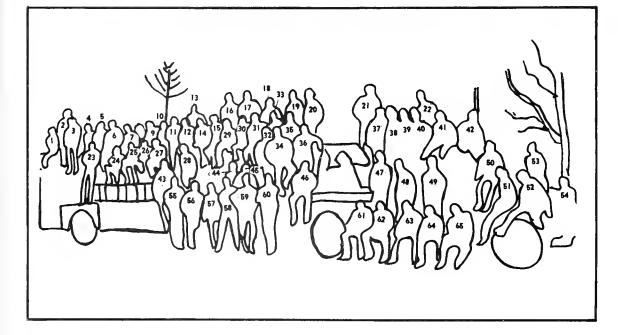

The finishing in intramurals last spring with a first in badminton, a third in swimming and a first in May Day gave Lambda Chi second place in overall intramurals. The fall was equally successful with a second in softball and firsts in ping pong and cross-country.

Lambda Chi's also held the campus leadership positions of Mr. Memphis State and SGA administrative vice-president. There were also Lambda Chi's serving on the DeSoto, The Tiger Rag, the IFC and UCPB staffs as well as members of Omicron Delta Kappa, Senators, Who's Who, Pi Delta Epsilon and Arnold Air Society.

Philanthropic projects included programs with the March of Dimes, the Kidney Foundation and the Mile-O-Dimes. They also assisted with the Cancer Drive and co-sponsored the Ford Punt, Pass, and Kick Contest.

During the spring Lambda Chi finalized their plans for moving into a new fraternity house, part of the Fraternity Park complex scheduled for completion in 1970.

Delta Zeta Chapter

IIKA

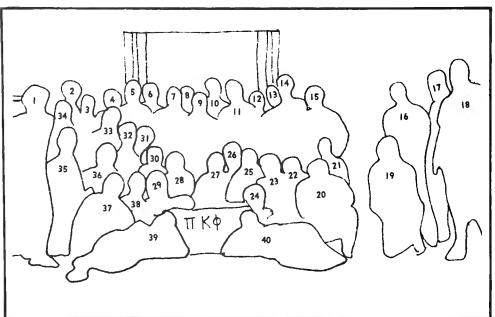

Pi Kappa Alpha was host to the National Fraternity Leadership School this year. Delta Zeta's chapter house was the setting for a 250-man banquet during the Leadership School.

Pi Kappa Alpha continued its campus leadership by holding high offices in the SGA, IFC, Omicron Delta Kappa and various other campus organizations. Along with their first place victory in the DZ Follies, Pi Kappa Alpha also captured first place in intramurals softball.

The spring was highlighted by Pi Kappa Alpha's "Dream Girl" Ball where Barbara Essary was crowned Dream Girl for 1969-70.

The Delta Zeta Pikes were anxiously awaiting the completion of their new house located in the center of Memphis State University's new fraternity park.

Gamma Delta Chapter

ПКФ

Pi Kappa Phi was quite active this year with representatives in a number of campus organizations. Honors included the treasurer of the Interfraternity Council, members of the Order of Omega, the president of the Spanish Club and members of various scholastic honoraries. Offices in the Student Government Association included the attorney general and chairmen of Curriculum Committees. Several brothers participated in the staging of "Hair."

Scholastically, the fraternity was proud of its brothers on the Dean's List and in the IFC 4.0 Club.

In intramural competition Pi Kappa Phi placed first in horseshoes and second place in table tennis. Ken Walsh received the MSU Homecoming Golf Tournament Trophy. The brothers were proud of Herb Blow, who was chosen Most Outstanding Athlete in the Intramural Program.

The brothers participated in various service projects, including the March of Dimes Drive.

The highlight of the fall semester was Pi Kappa Phi's successful pledge swap with Alpha Phi. They also joined together to produce an outstanding Homecoming float, which received Honorable Mention.

Tennessee Sigma Chapter

ΣAE

SAE captured it's fifth consecutive All-Intramural Trophy and the first All-University Trophy. Highlights included first place in softball, basketball, volleyball, billiards, handball and golf.

Off the athletic field SAE was particularly active in the Student Government Association, Inter-fraternity Council and ODK. SAE was especially pleased with high offices in each of these important areas of student involvement.

Socially, SAE again proved that college life is not all books and studies. The annual Sweetheart Party, Christmas Party and Spring Weekend at Heber Springs, Arkansas were especially successful this year.

SAE, proud of its work in community relations, added many rewarding times for both themselves and a group of retarded children at a Memphis school.

Tennessee Beta Chapter

The Tennessee Beta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon began the fall semester by winning the SGA Spirit Trophy for displaying the greatest group spirit on campus.

Scholastically, SPE received the Sigma Chi Traveling Trophy for the most improved scholarship on campus. Sig Ep also placed two brothers on the Dean's List, with fourteen other brothers compiling a 3.0 or better.

In campus activities, Tennessee Beta received a color television set for collecting the most money on campus for the LeBonheur Children's Hospital Drive. SPE placed second in All-Sing and in intramural swimming, tennis and turkey trot.

Alpha Gamma Delta and SPE held their annual Christmas party for underprivileged children and also participated in a pledge swap with Delta Zeta. Ramona McIntosh of DZ was named as the Sig Ep Diamond Princess at the annual pledge class formal.

Sigma Phi Epsilon was represented by the president of the IFC and by the Greek God. Sig Eps also participated in Omicron Delta Kappa, Senators and the Cheerleaders.

Epsilon Kappa Chapter

Sigma Chi fraternity again brought a weekend of fun and festivity to Memphis State University's campus with its annual Derby Day. The event which was sponsored for sorority pledges was highlighted by a visit from Mayor Henry Loeb of Memphis and climaxed by the annual Derby Day Dance and crowning of the Sigma Chi Derby Doll.

Sigma Chi was represented in many areas of campus activity with brothers in IFC, Omicron Delta Kappa, Who's Who, Arnold Air Society, The Tiger Rag and Young Republicans.

The fraternity had a full social calender with outstanding functions following MSU football games and mixers held for each of the sororities on campus. The annual Christmas party and Sweetheart Ball were highlights of the year.

The real climax of the fall season came when the fraternity house burned.

Tennessee Zeta Colony

The Tennessee Zeta Colony of Phi Kappa Psi has grown to become an active part of the Memphis State campus. Phi Kappa Psi doubled its size during the year and planned to move into a new house.

The colony participated in all Interfraternity projects as well as sponsoring several of its own.

This year Phi Psi participated in intramurals, IFC activities and the Homecoming yard displays. Also, the brothers took a very active part in the spring SGA elections.

The colony was fully represented in clubs and organizations on campus. Brothers were members of the Pre-legal Society, the History Club, Student Government Association and other organizations.

The Phi Psi's highlighted their year again with a dinner for the sorority presidents and a spring formal. The dinner was held to honor the presidents for their contributions to Memphis State University.

Psi Pentaton Chapter

$\sum K$

The brothers of the Psi Pentaton Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa received their charter in May of 1969 and since that time succeeded in reaching a prominent position at Memphis State University.

Efforts have reached in several directions over the past year. After remodeling the interior of the house in the summer, Phi Sig enjoyed a highly successful fall rush resulting in the largest number of men to pledge Phi Sig on this campus. Actives and pledges worked together to take third place in Homecoming Float competition.

The high point of the year was the National Convention of Phi Sigma Kappa which was held in Memphis in August.

Delta Nu Chapter

In the fall of 1963, Phi Beta Sigma's first pledge class was initiated from the Lemoyne Chapter. In the spring of 1966, it was established as a colony, and in February of 1969, the fraternity house was secured. Phi Beta Sigma was nationally recognized as a chapter in May, 1969 and was called Delta Nu. Memphis State's administration awarded chapter status on January 9, 1970.

The brothers of Phi Beta Sigma highlighted their year by a number of philanthropics including a Boys' Club project and a Christmas party for crippled children.

The fraternity gathered together for Brotherhood Workshop and participated in Homecoming Weekend.

This spring they were honored by being chosen as the site for the Regional Conference of Phi Beta Sigma.

TOMORROW

the focus is on you Part I: A challenge

"The students at MSU now are more mature in their outlook on life. They are more individual. More students are interested in getting quality education, if you mean maturity in that sense."

"I think a person becomes mature when he develops his individuality. You can't put people in a mold and classify them. More and more people are being themselves — they're accepting life. Memphis State offers involvement, and involvement helps a person become well-rounded."

Maturity is when a person can no longer make a definite statement. "I'd hate to think of that as maturity. Again, you have to be an individual — the same statement may not fit the same two people."

"Today's students mustn't take things at surface value. Don't follow a crowd because something sounds like fun."

"You've got to be your own man — draw up your own philosophy of life. Sooner or later someone will ask you 'What is your philosophy of life'."

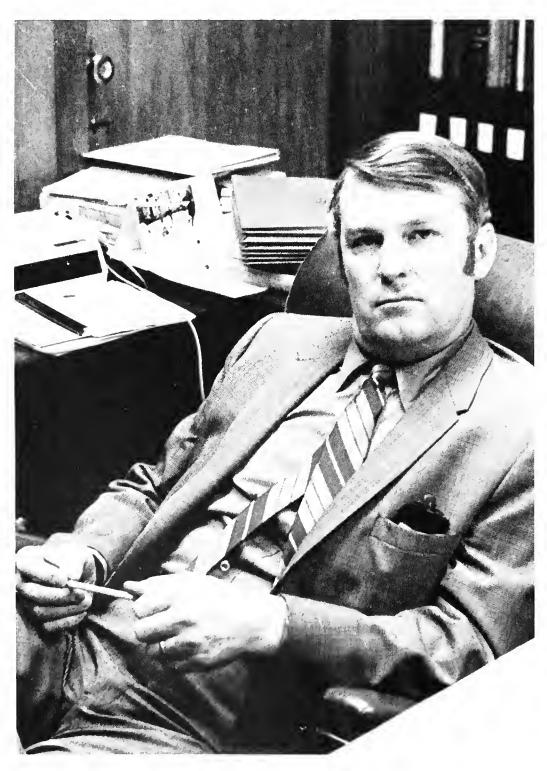

"I teach accuracy and logical reasoning. If my students can carry over that type of reasoning, then they've gotten something from me."

"I've been at Memphis State for 24 years. I think students here now are about the same, in terms of maturity, as they were when I first came."

"I think of maturity as an ability and willingness to accept responsibility. Maturity comes with responsibility."

"The rights of society are more important than the rights of the individual. Where there is a conflict, society should and must take over. Society must be responsible and act as a watchman for individuals and itself."

"Population is the worst problem facing the world today. All our ills stem from over population, and something has got to be done about it."

David A. Collins, dean of student activities

Dr. Helen H. Kaltenborn, asst. professor of mathematics

Mike Coscia

Phyliss Dibrell

"Maturity is being able to cope with a situation."

"I think the students at Memphis State now are more mature than when I first came here because there are more out-of-state students. Part of maturing is learning to be away from home — he has to do more for himself."

"When a student comes back and says what he has learned has been of benefit, I feel rewarded as a teacher."

"I don't try to teach a student the ideal situation. I try to give him enough information and facts so that he may cope with any situation he may be confronted with."

Leonard A. Bryson, asst. professor of P.E. and recreation, Gymnastic coach

Elizabeth S. Spencer, assoc. professor of journalism

"Maturity is taking responsibility for your actions. Taking a long view of your actions — thinking about the future, not just career but social movements."

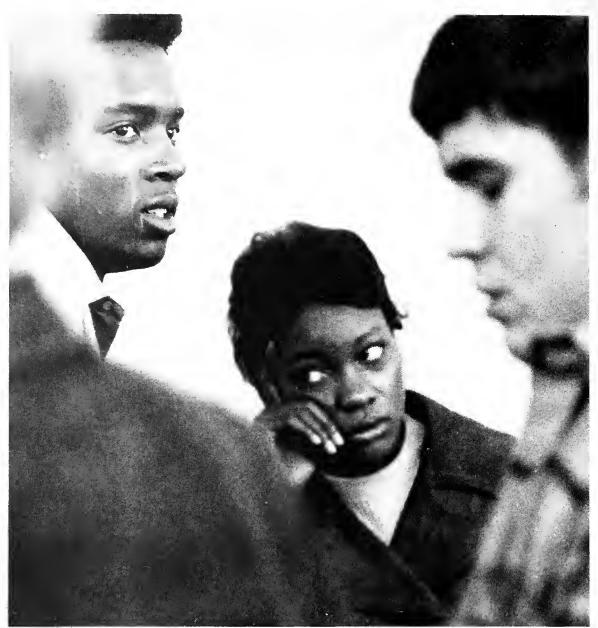

"Misunderstanding between people is the greatest problem facing the world today. The problem involves an inability to understand the other's point of view and an unwillingness to compromise."

"I would like to see the young people increase communication between people and establish a sense of lasting values for themselves."

"It's corny as sin, but 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.' It's basic in life."

Part II: A Goal

"Maturity is being able to accept life for what it is — not being so idealistic that everything is a letdown. If you set a goal, don't give up at the first stumbling block. A mature person must be able to accept something new — be broad minded."

"If you know your limitations, you learn to laugh at yourself, rather than surround yourself with a shell when faced with a difficult situation."

"I think I've gotten the most I can out of Memphis State as an undergraduate, but I'm not totally satisfied. I think it has helped me, and I think I've helped it."

"I want to get the most I can out of life. I'd like to travel around the world — I can't believe it's as bad as people say."

Mary Agnes Welsh, journalism major, Class of '70

Pat Guibao

"Memphis State has made me socially aware. I'm better able to accept change and cope with my surroundings. My attitudes toward life, the world, have changed."

"I know I want my PhD. I want to improve myself to the maximum of my capabilities. I don't want to sell myself short."

"I want security — a position that offers security. But I don't want to be a millionaire. People won't believe this, but I am concerned about my fellow man. Someone has to be in there punching for him. Environment will be the new bandwagon now that the Viet Nam thing is coming to an end."

John Schuier, graduate student in invertebrate zoology, Class of '70.

Mike Coscia

"A person is mature when he develops the ability to bend and give with circumstances."

"At Memphis State, I've met more people, taken a larger part in activities, been exposed to many viewpoints. I've had to fight — to relieve animosity between sororities. I've learned to stand up for what I think is right, not just for me, but for any number of people."

"The highlight of my college career has been student teaching. I was giving a part of myself to my students, and I got the rewards soon in their expressions. I tried to have my students look at the positive side of everything."

"After I graduate, I would like to teach for a while, then work for a lab."

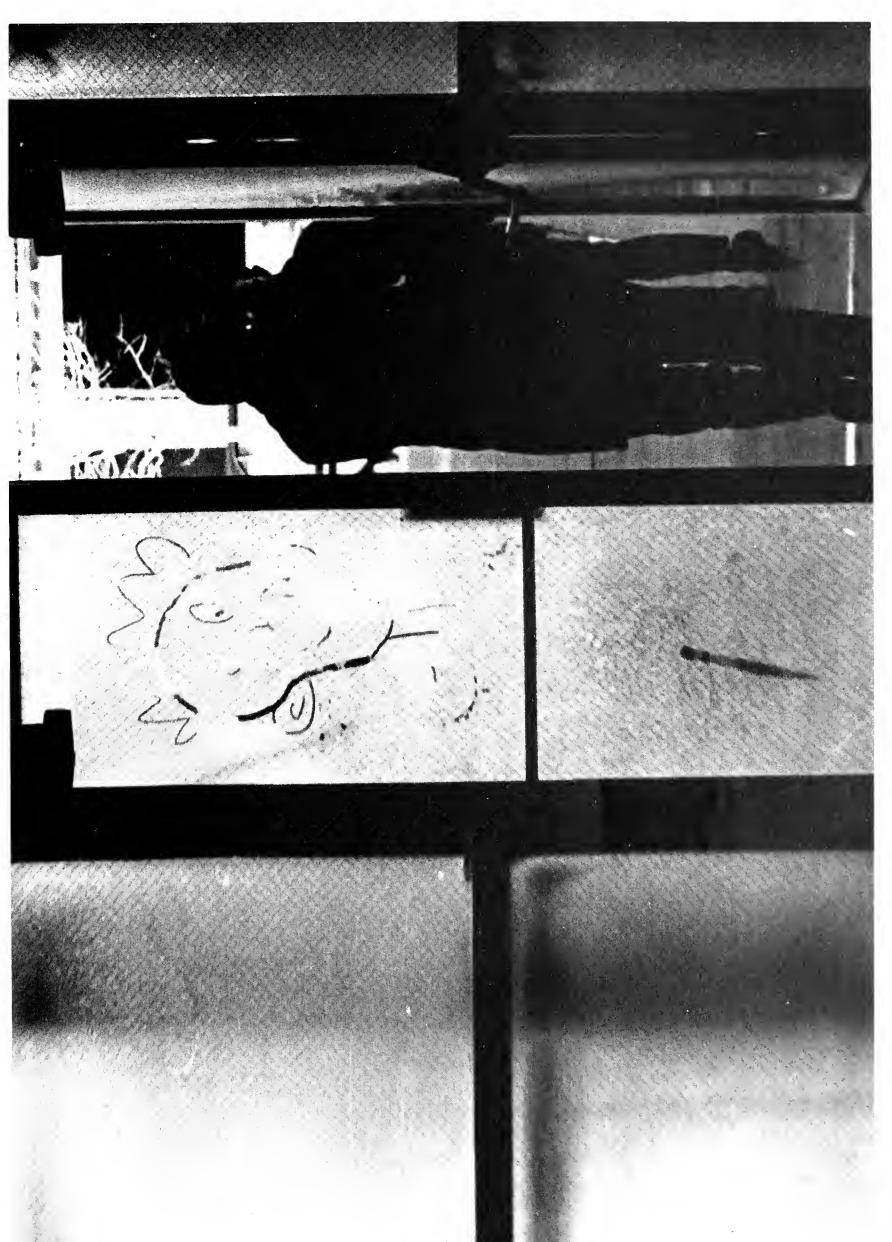

Robb Mitchell

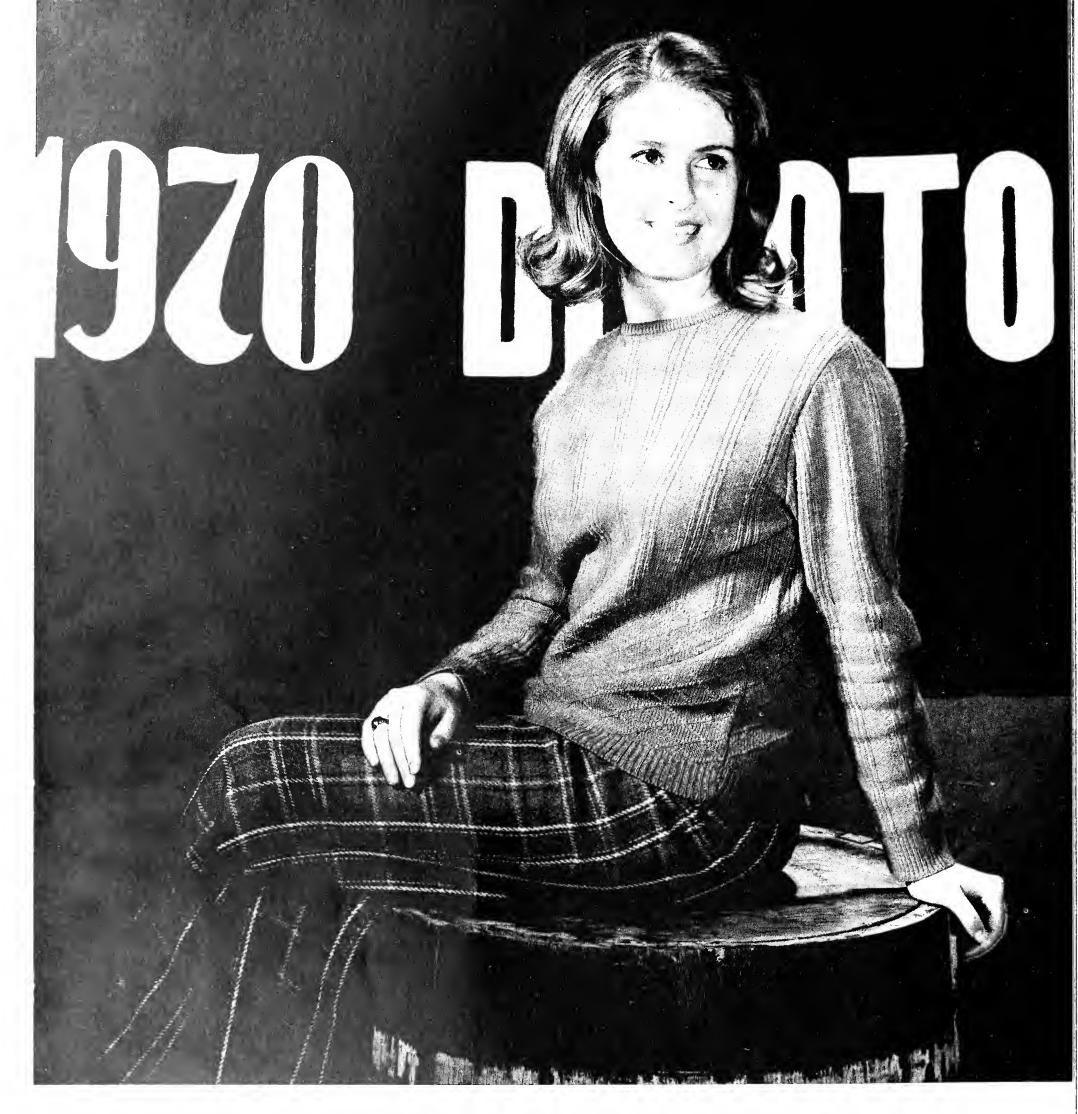

Ella Pope, biology major, Class of '70

Mike Coscia

College years are among the "best years of our lives," and I, with the help of the staff and the photo service, have tried to capture just one of those years . . . the many aspects, attitudes, ideas and events of a year at Memphis State University. I have ventured to feel that this year has been different from previous years at MSU. Our generation is different. We are not content with tradition or custom; instead, we have strived for progress, for more freedom, and we have been given the opportunity to achieve this by accepting more responsibility. Our willingness to carry added responsibility will prove our worth.

I am grateful for having had the chance to edit the 1970 DeSoto and only hope that I have not disappointed those who entrusted me with the undertaking.

I join others who devoted their time, efforts and consideration in order to make MSU a better school in saying that I am proud to have been a student of MSU.
